Fire Ends Gym Suit Era

Pottstown High school's graduating girls, plenty steamed up at sweating out hundreds of hours in hated gym suits during the past six years, blew off the steam by burning the garments at The Hill school Far fields Tuesday evening.

About 60 Seniors jogged merrily in a circle singing "fight" songs as the gym clothing, an effigy of their physical education teacher, an old rocking chair and several text books went up in flames.

Gym Suits, Long A Bane, Sacrificed to Eager Flame

A new observance has been added to the graduation week ceremonies at Pottstown High school—the burning of the gym suits.

Approximately 60 High school Senior girls, who have been very close to the white, one piece suits for six years, burned the gym wear in the first annual suit burning observance Tuesday night.

In addition, an effigy of their gym teacher went up in flames, and a chant "Ode to A Gym Suit" was sounded over the Hill school Far fields, where the ceremony took place.

The girls joined hands and tripped gaily about the pyre of suits, which included a second, less imaginative effigy; an old rocking chair and several textbooks.

THE GIRLS ran around in small circles, shrieking fiendishly, rending the suits into tatters, stamping on the clothing and kicking it around in the dust.

"All just part of the ceremony . . . it ought to be down pat after some tradition is established," cooed one as she held a match to the heap of suits.

Amid the chuckling and leaps of joy, a girl could be heard wailing, "Mine won't burn . . . my suit won't catch fire."

She was restrained before she could dive at the fire, and finally the flames licked at the garment and devoured it.

THE NORTH End Fire company was on hand with a tank truck to see that everything remained under control, and to extinguish the embers.

As the youthful graduates turned their backs on the remains of the effigy, rocking chair and gym suits, subtle smiles creased their faces.

. . . as if a great weight had been lifted from their backs.

Here is the composition chanted to the demise of the symbols of dreaded physical education, as conceived by Jean Kochel, Gail Knabb and Carole Stanton:

ODE TO A GYM SUIT

Our dear old gym suit, no longer white, we'll banish you into the night. We'll roast you, toast you, till you're done and then we'll say that we had fun.

We called it work, Miss Hutt called it play, and we can say with truth this day we wore you with pain, agony, too, we exercised till we were blue.

Our figures neat and trim should be, since she is done with you and me. Skip around, march by four, then down upon that crusty floor.

"Attention squad one," was her favorite cry, good grades from her we could not buy. Pink cards, blue cards, yellow ones, too, forget your number and you are through.

Fitness tests we all did fail; Russian youth she'd surely hail. She thought that we were out of shape, so out she'd drag her measuring tape.

In and out that darn gang shower in order that we might smell like a flower. Impossible to cheat with "Hawk Eyes" there, we'd wet our towels and dampen our hair.

But after all is said and done, we must admit that we had fun, but the roaring fire I watch with a grin, as I say—"Let me be first to throw mine in!"

Another Sunny Day Is On Tap

A bright sunny sky with some scattered clouds ruled over Pottstown Tuesday with pleasant temperature in the low 70s and low humidity—and the outlook is just as fair.

The maximum the mercury reached Tuesday was 72 which lasted from 4 p. m. to 8 p. m. Low Tuesday was 57 at 7 a. m.

Breaking the hot humid weather is a high pressure area covering most of Southeastern Pennsylvania which will continue for another two days with a slight warming trend tomorrow.

Showers are still expected sometime during the weekend, but the long range weather picture could change if the high pressure continues in the area.

High today will be near the middle 70s and the low tonight in the 50s. Tomorrow's high is expected to be in the upper 70s.

THE WEATHER

Fair today through tomorrow. High expected near 75, low in the 50s. A little warmer Thursday.

'RESIDENTS' EXPECT OVER 300 AT MEET

Informative Session On Dam Project Is Tonight

A crowd of between 300 and 400 French Creek valley residents is expected tonight for a US Army Engineers informative session on the proposed 4280 acre dam and park along French creek.

The East Vincent township civic league and Chester county clergymen have lent their support to an effort by the newly formed "French Creek Valley Residents" to fill the auditorium of the Vincent Consolidated Elementary school at Heistand's corner on Route 23.

The meeting will begin at 8 p. m., and will be conducted by the Civilian Report group of the U.S. Army Engineers.

William Briley, president, and Robert Kameron, member at large, of the Vincent Civic league, prepared and have circulated notices of the meeting.

The residents group urged everyone in the French Creek valley area to attend the public meeting tonight.

Answers will be sought to such questions as: when will the project begin?,is there any way residents can effect a change of the location of the proposed dam?,when will land acquisition begin?, and are the plans definite?

140 SENIORS GET DIPLOMAS AT ROBERTS

America's Role Is Theme of Graduation

One hundred and forty pupils at Owen J. Roberts High school —the largest graduating group in the history of the school—received diplomas Tuesday night before a capacity audience in the school auditorium.

Theme of the Class of 1360 was "The American's Role in Global Citizenship". Beginning the Commencement program, six honor pupils spoke on "The History of the United States Discloses Its Role in World Leadership".

Giving the talks were Mary Ann Bodolus, Linda Lou Rakay, Lucille D. Davis, Barbara R. Demyan, Barbara Ann Fritz and Donna Jeanne Yocom.

The girls related parts of American history from the time Americans escaped European persecutions to come to what was in the 15th century

H. POLLOCK IS NAMED BOARD HEAD

School Board Officer, John Kurtz Resigns

REPLACEMENT TO BE SOUGHT

Harry J. Pollock, Pottstown business executive, of Bleim road, Pottstown RD 3, was elected president of the Lower Pottsgrove school board Tuesday night after the former president resigned.

The board accepted "with regret" the resignation from the board of John E. Kurtz, Hilltop road, Pottstown Route 18.

Kurtz indicated that the press of duties in a change of jobs, plus a desire to spend more time with his family, motivated his decision.

In his letter of resignation he said, "I find it is impossible for me to devote the amount of time necessary to doing a commendable job (on the board).

HARRY POLLOCK

"My association with the board has always been very enjoyable and the experience will be remembered for many years."

POLLOCK, was elected president by acclamation. He joined the board two months ago when elected to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Frederick W. Schneider. He was elected vice president at that time.

Pollock is general manager of Levitz Furniture company, 212 High street.

New Hanover Street Bridge Suggested by Norco Board

By GORDON GRIFFITHS
(Mercury Staff Writer)

The outcome of a joint North Coventry-Pottstown officials' meeting may be the first step toward a new Hanover street bridge across the Schuylkill river.

Borough council's highway-sewer committee Tuesday night decided to meet with the North Coventry township supervisors in the near future to begin discussions on repairing or replacing the "dilapidated" bridge.

George Neiffer, secretary of the North Coventry supervisors, in a letter to the borough, asked Pottstown to join in taking immediate action to solve the bridge problem.

The North Coventry supervisors decided previously to seek joint action on the bridge because any combined effort by both municipalities should carry more weight with State authorities.

THE BRIDGE is a State responsibility, and both North Coventry and borough officials feel it has been neglected too long.

Barton K. Whitman, angrily posed a question which had the committee astir immediately, "What happened to the mercury vapor lights for the downtown area?"

Borough Manager Robert H. McKinney Jr. said a Philadelphia Electric official had promised last week that work would begin in June and would be completed by September.

Whitman proposed an immediate complaint to the Public Utilities Commission, "because they've (PE) stalled on this too long . . . it's been three years since we started talking about it."

Committee chairman John R. Hoffecker said if Pottstown had no lights at all, it might be justified, but the PUC can't do anything about replacements.

McKinney reminded that Philadelphia Electric didn't have the go-ahead until the recent budget was adopted which provided for the borough's share of financing the program.

The high intensity lights are planned for High street between Manatawny and Adams streets, on Hanover and Charlotte streets between King street and the Reading railroad, and on King street between Hanover and Charlotte streets.

The committee asked McKinney to arrange for a conference with a Philadelphia Electric company official.

Salvation Army Brigadier Will Return to Borough

Brigadier Paul White and his wife, Brigadier Emmajean White, will return to Pottstown for the second time as commanding officers of the Salvation Army.

The Whites, commanding officers of the Williamsport Salvation Army for the past 15 years, will replace Captain C. Robert Flinn and his wife, Captain Ruth E. Flinn. They expect to arrive in Pottstown July 6.

The Flinns, who began their mission in Pottstown on July 3, 1952, have been assigned to Wilmington, Del. The present tour of duty for both families has been longer than usual, according to Brigadier White in a telephone interview with The Mercury Tuesday.

"The usual command in one area," he reported, "lasts from three to five years. The

TRI-BOROUGH SEWER COST UP $18,000

Need of Road Repair After Installation Cited as Cause

The cost of sewerlines will rise $18,000 in the Upper Perkiomen valley.

The added costs are for repairing streets in three boroughs, after pipes are installed.

The figure was compiled by Albright and Friel, engineers for the project, and is more than double the original estimate.

The sewer authority Tuesday met in the East Greenville Fire hall. Four of six members attended and it was noted that construction is 1.3 percent finished. Bills of $12,802 will be paid the contractor.

THE AUTHORITY will give to East Greenville borough council a plan for sewer construction on Main street.

The comprehensive plan allegedly shows a savings of $11,000 by putting pipes in Main street, instead of in alleys. Council will be asked to accept the plan, although the council favors a different route.

The authority reported "no difficulty" with residents in getting rights of way for sewer pipes. Permission to lay pipes on State roads will be sought.

Those roads are Sixth street, Red Hill; Seminary and Pottstown avenues, Pennsburg, and State street, East Greenville.

Harold Bitting, East Greenville, was accepted as a new member of the authority.

Civic Leaders Will Plan Parking Lot Solicitation

A committee made up of Pottstown merchants, banking officials and Chamber of Commerce representatives will meet tomorrow to lay plans to solicit funds for a $50,000 trust fund for two new borough parking lots.

Borough council's finance committee agreed to a proposal to build the lots when it recognized that local merchants would underwrite for ten years any deficit from the program and would establish the fund for that purpose.

Edward Hoffman, manager of the New York store, and a member of the merchant committee, said it is the "intention to solicit the landlords and tenants, professional people, independant and chain stores, and everybody in close proximity to the parking lots in question." He added that $20,000 has already been raised.

The proposed lots are the sites on High street, the old Lessig mansion, and on the Reading railroad freight yard and would give 311 new off-street parking spaces at a cost of between $330,000 and $350,000.

SEVEN MEN make up the merchant committee which includes: Stuart Webb, chairman, senior vice president of the Montgomery County bank; Raymond Elliott, executive vice president, First Federal Savings and Loan company and president of the Chamber of Commerce, Leon and Ralph Levitz, owners of Levitz Furniture store; Edward and Jack Hoffman, managers of the New York store, and Walter Cain, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Edward Hoffman said that the committee would be increased "so that the soliciting can be completed in two to four weeks."

He said that Theodore R. Drippe, owner of the Town Toy company, and John W. Storb, owner of the Storb Travel agency, would join the committee later.

The trust fund must be turned over to the Borough authority before any moves are made and must be in the form of cash or notes against real property.

Any deficit incurred during the first ten years of operation will be covered by the fund.

What remains of the $50,000 by the end of the ten years will be placed in a revolving fund to underwrite or finance further civic improvements.

Magazine Editor Criticizes President At County Manufacturers' Meeting

The Eisenhower administration was sharply criticized Tuesday night at a banquet of 500 industrialists in the Sunnybrook ballroom by the editor of the conservative magazine, National Review.

William F. Buckley Jr., called the Eisenhower administration "undirected by principle, unchained to any coherent idea as to the nature of man and society, (and) uncommitted to any valid estimate of the nature or potential of the enemy."

The charge was made at the 52d annual meeting and banquet of the Manufacturers' association of Montgomery county at which the nominations of two Pottstown industrialists were unanimously approved in voting for 1960-61 officers.

Howard W. Bartholomew, plant manager of Doehler-Jarvis division, National Lead company, was chosen first vice president, and Morris R. Gavin, plant manager of Dana corporation, was named to the executive committee.

BARTHOLOMEW succeeds H. Thomas Hallowell, of Standard Pressed Steel company, Jenkintown. Hallowell was named president. Gavin joins the executive committee with John T. Whiting, 1959-60 president.

Buckley said the Eisenhower program "suffers from the ultimate lifelessness of any program unanimated by definition or principle," but noted that it also enjoys "a marvelous flexibility."

"It can respond quickly, and decisively, to the slightest political impulse, and it can reconcile opposites. Under the Eisenhower program one can, simultaneously, declare for a free market economy and veto the gas bill, stand by a policy of liberation and go to the summit, lucubrate over constitutional rights and freedoms and forever abandon captured American soldiers . . ." Buckley charged.

The blast at the Eisenhower administration came midway through his charges that America is taking the middle road with a loss of principles.

Robert Towson, 525 Grant street, surrendered to police Tuesday after being sought for murder. Towson on Monday struck Michael Bolognese, 265 High street. Bolognese died Tuesday. A hearing on the matter will be today before Justice of the Peace Raymond Kelley.

Murder Charge Lodged As Scuffle Victim Dies

A punch thrown in anger has resulted in an open charge of murder against a Pottstonian, now on probation for burglary.

Robert Towson, 525 Grant street, is in the borough lockup facing a homicide charge in the death of Michael Bolognese, 265 High street.

Towson confessed to swinging at Bolognese on Monday night in Penn Village. Bolognese, 65, fell from the single blow and struck his head on the street. He was taken to Pottstown hospital and was transferred Tuesday at 8:45 a. m. to Reading hospital.

Bolognese, an ice man, died of brain injuries five hours after arriving in Reading.

THE SCUFFLE first brought a disorderly conduct charge against 33-year-old Towson. But after Bolognese died, county detectives and Pottstown police searched the borough for Towson on a charge of murder.

When Towson learned witnesses to his fight were picked up by police, he surrendered at borough hall.

Events surrounding Bolognese's death conflit slightly with various testimony. But Towson admits hitting the elderly man after warning him to "get out."

Bolognese was trying to collect $1 for ice he had delivered to Willie Mae Elliott, 504 West King street.

HE HAD ridden to Penn Village with George Anholt, Birdsboro RD 2, and Dorothy Reynolds, 265 High street.

He reportedly opened the door of the Elliott home, put a foot

More Sewer Headaches— What About The Bypass?

North Coventry residents Tuesday posed two more touchy problems in relation to the proposed sewer system.

One concerns "bad timing" and the other concerns the interest of residents not included in the sewer project.

With detailed engineering on the proposed Route 422 bypass a certainty, many homeowners who will have their land condemned by the State for the road will first have to pay their share of the sewer project.

The homeowners who are in the right-of-way of the proposed bypass, along East Schuylkill road, cannot sell their homes to avoid the sewer expense because it is known the homes will be condemned eventually.

IF THEY stay, these residents will bear the expense of the sewer, which will barely be in use when the State will buy and demolish the homes.

The residents feel they cannot possibly be remunerated for the sewer expense when the State sets a condemnation price.

The Sewer authority told these people that the State will pay more for properties with sewers, because the land will be worth more.

A. Erwin Colver, chairman of the authority, said it is also possible the bypass condemnation would beat the sewer system to the punch, and there would be no assessments since there would be no properties.

Firemen Rescue Man From Blazing Room

Collegeville firemen Tuesday rescued a man from his burning living room.

A space heater started a blaze in the home of Charles Raley, 30 First avenue, Collegeville. Raley became unconscious and was given oxygen by firemen. No further treatment was required.

Damage to the house in the half hour blaze was just $25. The fire started at 9:15 a. m.

CLASS NIGHT CONDUCTED BY SENIORS

Schwenksville Class Gets Garland of Flowers

The presentation of a huge garland of flowers to the Senior class highlighted the annual class night of Schwenksville High school Tuesday night.

With more than 200 parents, friends and pupils looking on, the entire 50-pupil Junior class marched down the aisle at the Claude K. Kulp elementary school and presented the garland to the 40 members of the Senior class at the front of the stage.

The garland is a traditional token of congratulation for graduating from the the school. The Seniors' commencement will be tomorrow night in the high school auditorium.

Another traditional feature of class night was the presentation of the Senior key by the graduating class to the Juniors. Ronald Yergey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Yergey, Spring Mount, Senior class president, turned over the key to Carole Cole, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Harold Cole, Rahns, Junior class, president.

THE KEY is symbolic of the carrying on of traditions of sportsmanship, scholarship, character, etc., at the school.

The program was opened with a review of class history in a skit performed by the Seniors. The theme was "Time Machine Built."

Andrea Fry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fry, Schwenksville, rendered a vocal solo. Acrobatics were performed by Karen Nyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Nyce, Zieglerville.

The class will was read by Sally Kanengeiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kanengeiser, Graterford, and Edward Creter, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Creter, also of Graterford.

"Gifts" were distributed to pupils of the class, with commentary appropriate to each, by Amy Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Golden, Schwenksville, and John Waddel, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Waddel, Schwenksville.

The program was closed with the singing of the alma mater.

The class awards will be made during the commencement program.

Norco to Participate In 3 Fire Parades

North Coventry Fire company will participate in 2 parades this month and one in July.

The schedule was announced Tuesday at a meeting attended by 20 in the fire hall. The company had four fires last month.

A committee to investigate the purchase of air conditioners is comprised of Joe Noel, L. S. Gerhart, Charles Hoffman, Harry Gunder and Jesse Mock.

West Nantmeal Taxes Increased

Residents of West Nantmeal face an increase in taxes.

The school board adopted a budget Tuesday night that calls for real estate levies to climb to 35 mills. That is an increase of seven mills. The per capita tax of $10 and the $5 personal tax will remain as before.

Robert Cook, president, was in charge of the meeting attended by all directors in the Central school, Loags Corner.

Grange to Meet

Community grange 1712 of Fagleysville will hold its weekly meeting tonight at the Grange hall at 8:15 o'clock.

In charge of the meeting will be Henry Ludwig, master, and Mrs. Mary Haldeman, lecturer, will be in charge of the literary program.

Hanover Street Bridge Proposed By Norco Panel

First Federal Savings and Loan association.

The engineers proposed widening Buttonwood alley from 20 to 30 feet between North Hanover street and the west boundary of the First Federal property.

This would be done to facilitate the movement of traffic into and out of a parking lot between High street and the alley, which is included in the bank's plans for a new building at High and North Hanover streets.

The committee agreed to allow the widening of the alley, but referred to the police committee the problem of deciding on traffic movements in the area.

THE ENGINEERS proposed making Buttonwood alley a two-way alley between North Hanover street and the end of the bank property.

HOFFECKER and Joseph A. Suchoza asked for arrangements to complete the sewer system to all areas of Pottstown, and to require sidewalks and curbs in every section of the borough.

Their motive is to stimulate building on the borough's empty lots and in the far northeast section of town. Suchoza feels this area remains undeveloped due to lack of sewer facilities.

The committee also discussed the lack of storm sewer inlets in the Ninth ward, centering in the State street area.

The borough's engineering department will begin studies to determine the best locations of storm sewer inlets in that area, to reduce the frequency of flooding from streets during heavy rains.

THE COMMITTEE approved a request from the YMCA to install a large oil tank partly under the pavement on the west side of North Evans street.

The State department of Labor and Industry must also grant its approval. The YMCA is installing a new heating system with oil heat, and it was determined the huge tank could not be moved into the building and it would be extremely expensive to fabricate the tank in the basement.

The committee tabled a request to ordain and vacate a 20 foot wide alley running south 180 feet from Airy street between Summit lane and Farmington avenue.

The request was by George Jacobs, whose property facing both Farmington avenue and Willow street is bisected by the alley.

Daniel D. Kerlin is reported to oppose Jacob's proposition because he now uses the alley to reach the rear of a Farmington avenue property he owns.

The committee will hear both men at a future date before any action is taken. Suchoza said, "Jacobs bought that land subject to the alley's existence . . . He can't go around asking to close a borough right of way and to cut off another property owner."

SUCHOZA asked more investigation into all future petitions to ordain and vacate alleys and unopened streets.

Stanley Chaplin, a property owner at State and Eighth streets, asked to be exonerated from paving and curbing at the lot because it is being filled in, and trucks pulling into the lot would wreck the curb.

The committee agreed to let Chaplin postpone paving Eighth street, but will require him to pave and curb the property along State street.

Earl J. Case, director of public works, reported on the progress of the curbing program to date.

A total of 145 sidewalk permits have been issued, with 52 completed and 93 still in force. A half mile of curbing has been installed and over a mile of pavement has been built.

The committee will ask borough council to amend a previous sewer ordinance affecting Grant street. The amendment will call for the completion of a sewer line, for a distance of 90 feet, between Morris and Jackson streets.

56 WAITING TREATMENT AT CLINIC

Mental Health Group Hears Report

PSYCHIATRIST NEED IS OUTLINED

Fifty-six adults and children are on the waiting list at the Pottstown Area Mental clinic, a monthly report issued Monday at the board of directors meeting noted.

The report showed that the number waiting for admission is only 11 less than the number now being treated. Dr. Alice Shepperd, vice chairman, issued the report in the absence of Clare S. Smith, psychiatric social worker.

Dr. Sheppard reported that of the 67 active cases during May, 35 were adults and 32 were children. Of the total waiting for admission, 39 are children and 17 are adults.

The clinic is now operating on a part-time basis with several psychiatrists. A search for a full time psychiatrist to expand the operation of the clinic has been stymied by the shortage of psychiatrists and the desire of those available to remain in larger cities.

IN OTHER business, the directors approved the revised bylaws. The revisions are expected to streamline the clinic's operations.

Mrs. Marvin Lipnak, president of the auxiliary, said auxiliary members will be requested to serve the United Fund. The clinic is a participating UF member.

The meeting was at the clinic offices, 635 High street. Dr. Clarence R. Pentz, president, was in charge.

French Creek School To Rent Visual Aids

The French Creek Valley Joint school board Monday night voted to rent films for use as visual aids in classwork.

The group also approved Summer repairs and renovations at the South Coventry and Warwick Elementary schools.

It was announced a teacher has been hired for extra study groups next Fall.

A calendar for the school year beginning Sept. 7 was adopted.

Homer Sweisford was elected treasurer to succeed Raymond Prizer, who resigned from the post.

Bills totaling $17,204 were ordered paid.

Three in Family Arrested by Police

Three members of the Petinko family, 126 Chestnut street, were arrested early this morning for drunk and disorderly conduct.

John was placed in borough jail. His mother, Anna, and his brother, George, each were released on $25 bail. Hearings for the three will be today before Justice of the Peace Raymond Kelley. Arrests at the Petinko home were by Sgt. Irvin K. Frederick and by Motor Patrolmen Joseph Thees, James Corum Jr. and Robert Scheidt.

Road Repair Deadline Set in Washington

A report that roads in the northeast end of Washington township will be repaired by the end of the first week in July was submitted to the township board of supervisors at their Tuesday night meeting.

Lester Pennepacker, road master, made the report at the meeting in the Barto Fire hall.

The supervisors voted to pay bills totaling slightly more than $1000.

All supervisors attended the meeting.

HURT AT HOME

George Kehl, Pottstown RD 2, suffered cuts of the right arm Tuesday and received eight stitches in the wound. Kehl received the injury at home and was treated and dischaged from Pottstown hospital.

inside and yelled for Mrs. Elliott.

There was no one home. Bolognese then strode back to his car. According to Towson, Mrs. Elliott suddenly appeared from the rear of the house and told Bolognese, "Get away from my door!"

Bolognese rode to Penn Village from Birdsboro with George Anholt, Birdsboro RD 2, and Dorothy Reynolds, 265 High street. The woman suddenly shouted curses, said witnesses.

Towson told Bolognese to move out with Miss Reynolds. "I walked up to Mike (Bolognese) and he cursed me. So did the woman. I then swung with my left hand and Mike and the girl dropped," said Towson, a husky laborer.

MISS REYNOLDS said Towson slugged her separately after hitting Bolognese. Towson said there was just one punch. The entire setting of the fatal blow was re-enacted for police by Towson, Anholt and Miss Reynolds.

Towson was arrested last year for burglarizing the Seventh Ward Social club, Grant street and Lincoln avenue. He was sentenced from 5 to 23 months in Graterford prison and was released on probation last September.

His complete record of run-ins with the law extends to when he was 17. The arrests include two violations of the fire arms act; two assault and battery; one charge of carrying a blackjack and five assorted charges of disorderly or drunk and disorderly conduct.

Assisting chief Harold Hahn in Tuesday's investigation was Charles Moody, chief of county detectives; Joseph F. Marlin, assistant chief of detectives; Assistant District Attorney Jules Bell, and County Detectives Edward Cyrus and Charles Lennox.

TOWSON IS separated from his wife and is the father of three children. When first arrested for fighting, Sgt. Michael Shanta said, "Towson, what are you going to do if Bolognese dies?"

"Don't you talk like that!" shot back Towson.

Tuesday he remarked, "I really feel sorry for Bolognese. I knew him for quite a while."

Bolognese was the father of Ernest J. Bolognese, a former Pottstonian convicted of murder. The son received a life sentence last February for slaying Mrs. Amelia Roehrig, Reading.

Also surviving are another son, Carl, of Blandon; a daughter Anna, wife of Frank Sciscio, Quakertown, and three grandchildren.

Services are being planned by the Fleischmann Funeral home, 726 High street.

Local Pastor to Attend Presbyterian Session

The pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, the Rev. William A. Guenther, will attend the annual session of the United Presbyterian synod of Pennsylvania Monday through Thursday.

The pastor will be one of a group of 220 clergy and lay commissioners at the 79th session at Grove City college, Grove City, Mercer county. Fifteen presbyteries, with an overall church membership of 540,000, will be represented.

The agenda includes a special conference on evangelism, seminars and various reports on activity within the synod.

Council Group Plans Signs for Stowe Airport

The borough council airport committee Tuesday night began plans for a "dressing up" program at the Municipal airport in Stowe.

Barton K. Whitman, committee chairman, revealed that there was not even one sign on the property identifying the field as the "Pottstown Municipal airport." He recommended signs be placed immediately.

Other items to be considered in the program are: painting "Pottstown Municipal airport" on the roofs of the "T" hangars, to be seen from the air, clearing of underbrush and weeds, and a general clean-up of the entire property.

The committee discussed briefly the recent Federal Aviation agency hearing in Harrisburg which will determine whether or not the borough will get $96,121 in Federal aid to help expand the airport facilities.

COUNCILMEN Joseph A. Suchoza and Harold Casselberry, who did not attend the hearing, were briefed on the proceedings by Whitman and Borough manager Robert H. McKinney Jr.

Suchoza asked if there were neighbors to the airport who were not opposed to it. McKinney said in addition to those airport neighbors who testified against the airport, there were many others who made no stand, but were not on the record as "opponents."

McKinney added, "We didn't take a busload of people to Harrisburg like the opponents did; because we felt it was an administrative hearing to determine if the site was adequate for expansion, not to determine if the neighbors liked it or did not like it."

The committee was informed that any land acquisition in the airport program, if and when it goes ahead, will be shared on a 50-50 basis by the borough and the FAA.

THE STATE will not participate in land acquisition, although on the other parts of the expansion it will finance 25 percent. The borough will need about one acre of ground owned by Walter F. Schwab, of Glasgow manor, the petitioner against the expansion.

McKinney and members of the committee will inspect a drainage problem at the airport which is reportedly responsible for flooding the yards of some airport neighbors.

At the Harrisburg hearing, the opponents said the borough had "brushed off" these residents' request to correct this drainage situation.

McKinney told the committee a drainage ditch, which should carry the water away from the bottom of a bank, had filled with dirt over the years and should be excavated again.

The committee put off any action until borough officials can study the problem and report on the best solution.

Whitman and Suchoza urged the complaint be satisfied as soon as possible, in an effort to better relations between the airport and nearby homeowners.

More Sewer Headaches— What About The Bypass?

cerning the residents is that those outside the sewer system wonder if maintenance and operation of the system will become an expense to all taxpayers.

Residents in the Sheep Hill area and the Chestnut Hills development believe they will become involved in the sewer situation.

Homeowners in these areas will get together to question the township supervisors at their next meeting.

As one homeowner said, "It is a tremendous price to pay, and I have a sneaking idea we will all pay it."

HE EXPLAINED that assessments could rise to cover wages for the plant operator and other workmen, as well as to cover upkeep.

Those in the way of the proposed bypass seek to have the project delayed until the route is definitely fixed. Then the sewer route could be planned to conform to the new highway.

Residents in borderline areas wonder why it hasn't been clarified that all future sewer expenses would continue to be paid from a revolving sewer fund.

They fear the issue has been sidestepped by the authority because it cannot commit itself to such a program, and overall taxes will eventually be affected.

LOCAL GROUP PREPARES FOR RETREAT

The Pottstown Retreat association conducted its first meeting Tuesday in preparation for the Malvern retreat July 29-31.

Meeting at the home of Charles Palladino, 58 Walnut street, Stephen J. Vagasky, captain, called the meeting to order. Members voted to inform all persons who have attended the retreat of its time.

The association is striving for 125 men from the Pottstown area to attend. Malvern is open to men of all denominations and races and is run by members of various religious lay groups.

Other officers of the Pottstown association are: Palladino, co-captain and recording secretary; Peter Grimm, associate captain and lecturer; Anthony Rogers, treasurer, and co-captains Michael King, Henry Koch, Frank Koiro, Louis Bracaglia, Morris Shane, Charles Grabousky, Martin D. Paoli, William J. Roberts and Milton S. White.

MALVERN is the only retreat organization entirely owned and operated by laymen and is the project of the Laymen's Weekend Retreat league of Philadelphia.

Located in the heart of the Philadelphia Main line section, the property is valued at close to $2 million and donated to or purchased by the league. Malvern can accommodate 300 men during a retreat.

Second meeting of the Pottstown association will be June 27 at 58 Walnut street.

Douglass-Berks Approves Budget Of $263,791

The Douglass-Berks school district approved a 1960-61 budget of $263,791 during its meeting Tuesday night at the Pine Forge elementary school.

The budget is some $16,000 more than the 1959-60 budget. A real estate tax of 42 mills — the same as this year's millage — was approved.

Board members accepted the resignation of Joan Eaby, Boyertown jointure music teacher, and hired Leesa Lohman to teach music in the jointure.

The Kurtz Supply company, Philadelphia, offered the low bid of $1188.33 for general school supplies which was accepted by the board.

Bills of $1599.81 were paid. James Egolf, president, was in charge of the meeting.

GETS AWARD—Thomas Edward Dick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Dick, 811 North Charlotte street, recently participated in graduation exercises at the Columbus Boychoir school, Princeton, N. J. Dick, an Eighth grader, received the "Best Choir Boy" award.

days, is to yield to the passion for modulation. One does not speak of kings and knaves and fair maidens and heroes, and treachery and honor and right and wrong; one speaks in greys and muted hues of social problems and life adjustment, and co-existence and interideological amity.

"Increasingly we are required to modulate our voices. Increasingly, the convention of tact brings us to modulate not only our voices, but also our dogmas," he warned.

"The impulse to soften, to modulate, to mitigate judgement has gotten out of hand," Buckley explained.

Buckley noted that the struggle these days "is for blandness," and "leadership consists in giving the people everything they want, and if they are not caught wanting enough, in reminding them of everything they do not have."

"For six years, President Eisenhower was the perfect expression of such an age. All things are, for him, personal; there is nothing of objective, superpersonal importance. In the three speeches in his recent career when he spoke more or less spontaneously, exuberantly, at three dramatic moments . . . he spoke only of himself, of personal and homely pieties."

BUCKLEY said the three moments were the half-hour program when he announced his decision to run again in 1956, the one hour program on election eve, and the 15 minute statement on the evening of his victorious election.

"There is no really serious crisis in the eyes of our President," he concluded, "and if there is one, something called the Eisenhower program will wish it away."

Bartholomew, as first vice president, is virtually assured of eventual election to the presidency of the organization which represents nearly every industry in the county. He began with Doehler-Jarvis in 1922 as a diemaker.

In 1926 he was promoted to plant superintendent and in 1942 he became plant manager. A past president of Rotary club, he is married and lives at Roland street and Saylor court.

Gavin, of 1038 Fiest avenue, was transferred to the Pottstown plant in 1950 from the Hillsdaie, Mich., Dana plant. He was assistant day plant manager there.

Colebrookdale Plans Road Construction

Colebrookdale will construct one and a half miles of new roads this year and will resurface two miles of old highways.

Township supervisors met Tuesday night in Gabelsville. Road work will start the first week in July, noted John Hartman, president.

Police Chief Ernest Schwenk reported two accidents and 15 calls for service last month. Supervisors paid bills of $1500.

Homemakers Name 2 Representatives

Nora Sitko and Susan Gohean, Pottsgrove High school Ninth graders, will represent the school in a State convention of Future Homemakers of America at Pennsylvania State university, Monday through Wednesday next week.

The Pottsgrove group has elected officers for the 1960-1961 term: president, Nancy Levengood; vice president, Doreen Stahl; secretary, Nora Sitko; treasurer, Joan Pelko; historian, Mary Ellen Miller; reporter, Joyce Day, and parliamentarian, Susan Gohean.

Mrs. Sara Rambo is club adviser.

H. POLLOCK IS NAMED BOARD HEAD

Ginder and Michael J. Petrick was appointed to select nominees for filling Kurtz's place on the five-man board. The committee is to report at a special meeting on June 20 and the new member will be selected at that time.

At the same meeting the board will approve finally its budget and tax rates for the 1960-61 school year. At a meeting on May 9 the board proposed a budget totaling $473,699.

TAXES PROPOSED were 46 mills on real estate, 100 mills occupation tax, $15 per capita and personal tax, and one percent of real estate transfers. The real estate levy is a 2 mill rise over the current rate while the other taxes remain the same.

The board approved a resolution to participate in a lease agreement in the Pottsgrove Joint School district.

The agreement, submitted by Solicitor Jules Pearlstine, will involve a bond issue for renovation of the West Pottsgrove High school for use as an elementary building, construction of a new elementary building for the three Pottsgroves, and addition of an all purpose room to the Lower Pottsgrove school.

A bond issue will be made for the projects later, but approval was asked by Pearlstine last night so that the district can borrow $90,000 now from local banks to carry out the renovation project. The loan will be repaid when the bond issue is made for the other projects.

MRS. JOSEPH F. SHULTZ, Pleasant View road, Pottstown RD 3, and her daughter, Virginia, will conduct the Lower Pottsgrove recreation program for this Summer, the board learned.

At an earlier meeting the board had approved the hiring of Mrs. Shultz, a second grade teacher in the township, and her daughter, a student at Kutztown State college.

The pair were instructed to prepare a "flyer" for distribution to pupils, giving details about the Summer program, starting date, etc.

Permission was granted for erection of a snow fence on the school athletic field by members of the Knee-Hi Baseball league. The league uses the field during the Summer and plans to set the fence 175 feet from home plate.

Bills totaling $31,471 were approved for payment along with the board's $25,000 May rental to the joint school district.

With $19,103 due the jointure as the board's final share of operating expenses, the group voted to pay $12,000 immediately. The remainder will be paid later this month when government securities mature and provide more money for the expenses.

Building Permit Is Issued for Store Renovation

John W. Storb Tuesday took out a building permit worth $15,000 for renovations and construction of a new front at his 267 High street property, where a new women's apparel store, Charming Shoppes, will be located.

The contractor on the job is R. B. "Mike" Hunter, 508 North Franklin street. The store was last occupied by Food King markets.

Building inspector Lewis J. Kirby also issued two other permits for homes. Harry T. Gresh, Boyertown builder, will construct for speculation a $14,000 Cape Cod type home in the Cherry Lane development.

Keystone Builders, of Pottstown, will build a $10,500 Cape Cod home at Roland and Grove streets for C. Conrad Snell, 1119 Industrial avenue.

The month of June is already off to a good start in building activity with $21,000 worth of construction planned in the East end—a home and a storeroom.

Tammany Head Admits Defeat In Primary

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

First returns from Tuesday's primaries dealt a blow to Tammany Democrats in New York and indicated California Republicans turned out in better numbers than Democrats.

Carmine DeSapio, Tammany leader, conceded defeat in key primary fights at the hands of insurgents led by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman.

In California, early returns showed Vice President Richard M. Nixon doing somewhat better than Democratic Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown in what was viewed as a sort of popularity contest between the two men and their parties.

Running unopposed for the state's 70 Republican convention delegates, Nixon was a bit ahead of the total for Brown's favorite-son slate for the 81-vote Democratic delegation. However, most of the early returns were from Southern California, a Nixon and Republican stronghold.

In addition to the California delegates, Nixon was slated to pick up 36 more convention votes from Tuesday's South Dakota primary and a GOP convention in Connecticut.

In a Southern Democratic primary without president overtones, segregationist Sen. James Eastland was sweeping to renomination in Mississippi while the voters seemed to be writing a right-to-work law into the state constitution over heavy union opposition.

Idaho and Montana also held state primaries Tuesday with little national interest involved.

23d Is Popular Date for Day of Season's Top Heat

Karen High, Pottstown RD 1, and Mrs. Mammie Jacobs, Yarnall road, both agree that the 23rd is going to be the hottest day of the Summer.

But they disagree on what month it will occur in. Miss High chooses July and Mrs. Jacobs chooses June in their entries in The Mercury's easy-to-play high temperature contest.

Two other entrants also checked in with guesses on Tuesday. Mary Schaffer, Pottstown RD 3, thinks July 17 at 5:15 p. m. is the exact moment at which the Summer temperature will hit its peak.

Forrest H. Miller, Fleetwood RD 1, agrees with Miss High and Miss Schaeffer that July is the right month. But his preference leans towards July 18 at 2:45 p. m.

MISS HIGH chose 2:23 p. m. and Mrs. Jacobs 4:45 p. m. as the exact moments in completing the contest form they clipped from page 2 of The Mercury.

And it's on page 2 where you can find your entry today. Just fill in the form with your selection for the moment when the mercury will push its way through the top of the thermometer.

Then mail it to the Weather Editor, Pottstown Mercury, King and Hanover streets. Or if you like, save the postage and bring in the coupon.

Health Board Meets In West Pottsgrove

A case of mumps and one of chicken pox were reported by West Pottsgrove Health Officer Daniel Wien for the township in May, Monday night at a meeting of the township board of health.

The meeting was in Wien's home, 919 Glasgow street, Stowe.

The board discussed the weed problem experienced in the past in the township and decided again to send out notices to persons not complying with the township ordinance concerning maintenance of properties.

All members of the board were present.

MAIN SPEAKER, Dr. Robert T. Oliver, head of the Department of speech, Pennsylvania State university, and author of over ten books and numerous magazine and newspaper articles mostly on Far Eastern affairs, told the audience of over 1000 that internationalism is not an empty dream, but a necessity for survival.

"Our future prosperity depends on the world having economic security. We must help other peoples or we will have a world wide revolution," Oliver said.

He told the seniors that in most of the education systems around the world "you would have been divided into two groups — academic and technical."

Oliver suggested that the Government in an effort to bring universal education to the world and to strengthen the position of the United States, convert Ellis island, at the Port of New York City, into a university and bring persons from all over the world and give them an education.

HE SAID that Russia has a university in Moscow for 4000 pupils from every part of the world that receive a four year free education.

The United States is separated from the rest of the world because of its prosperity. "We have so much money that we must stretch our imagination to find new ways to spend our money.

"We look at our bathroom scales with bowed heads and a humble and contrite spirit. Our sins are mostly caloric, yet one half of the world is going to bed starving," he said.

During the program, Paul H. Grim, supervising principal, presented awards to four pupils.

They are: Aina L. Stumbris, a member of the class who had to overcome the greatest obstacle to attain her education and who best possesses qualities needed for the teaching profession; Gary D. Loughin, outstanding athlete; G. Burton Parshall 3d, who has given the most unselfish service to the school, and Miss Bodolus, outstanding girl planning to enter the teaching profession.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8, 1960

The value of a sentiment is the amount of sacrifice you are prepared to make for it.—(John Galsworthy)

How Will We Exist?

SOME time ago the House Ways and Means committee rejected the Forand bill, which would provide government-paid medical services of various kinds to the beneficiaries of the social security system.

The ultimate cost of this measure, according to reliable estimates would be some $7.5 billion a year.

The committee's action, it should now be emphasized, does not mean that the bill is dead.

The strongest kind of pressures will be used either to resurrect it, or to press through another bill of a comparable nature.

And that gives immediate and urgent point to an editorial appearing in the Tulsa Daily World.

The papers writes: "How, in the light of what already is in prospect in the way of social security protection, can the mass of the American people take on another heavy tax such as the Forand bill contemplates where another $7.5 billion annually must be deducted from paychecks?

"We think cost is an important consideration; we don't care whether others so consider the matter.

"Moderate incomes today are being taxed as high as 30 percent; social security taxes are rapidly approaching the 10 percent bracket.

"We think it is not unfair to consider the individual in this matter—and we mean the individual who is not over 65 years of age.

"We want to know how these younger people are going to exist on only 50 to 60 percent of their annual earnings in the year's ahead. It would be difficult enough in these high-cost times to exist on 100 percent of income—if we could only collect it!"

In sum, we are going to have to begin thinking in terms of what we can afford as a nation if we are to prevent financial disaster .

And that means that we are going to have to look to means of solving problems which do not involve piling more and more burdens on taxpayers.

After Taxes

NEWS media occasionally carry stories concerning the highest paid people in American industry.

Under the law, these figures must be filed with the Securities and Exchange commission, and thus become a public record.

And the gross earnings of the executives concerned are certainly huge.

However, the news stories commonly pay little or no attention to what is left of these big incomes after the federal tax collector gets through.

U. S. News & World Report describes this aspect of the matter in a recent article.

Example: One man had total compensation of $670,350 before Federal income taxes —and $172,785 after.

Another earned $600,100 before Federal income taxes—and was left with $160,070.

Still another had a before-tax take of $515,100—and an after-tax take-home pay of $144,685.

The fact is that the U.S. Treasury is the biggest beneficiary of large incomes. And the earner is able to keep only a fraction of his compensation.

In addition, of course, he must pay taxes to state and local government, thus further reducing his take-home pay. Salaries have to be enormous to leave a net return large enough to interest executives desired.

The same thing is true of the earnings of business.

The profits tax on a corporation of any size is a whopping 52 percent. And that's just the beginning.

For the dividends paid to stockholders out of the remaining profits are subject to the individual income tax, at rates ranging from 20 to 91 percent.

Top executives and substantial businesses handle a lot of money. But most of it goes right through their hands, and into the coffers of government.

Taxes Never Repealed

IT is incredible that in less than six years the Federal highway program should have snow-balled so far out of hand that now its estimated cost is 73 percent over the original staggering figure of $23 billion.

The 40,000-mile interstate highway program was a glittering dream—one worthy and appealing. But, like others before it, it has turned into a spending nightmare.

All those starry-eyed enthusiasts who believed that the one-cent additional federal gasoline tax which Congress imposed not long ago to 'save' this program was 'temporary,' can now go stand on their dizzy heads.

Is Pottstown Ready to Help Neighbors?

Townships Need Help

To the Editor: Now we'll see just how anxious Pottstown is to help its neighbors.

There's much talk about cooperation and saving money and cutting down on costs of services. There's still much talk around about how the Pottstown area could become a big population center.

Now I see where Lower Pottsgrove is going to ask Pottstown to help out with sewers. They are actually coming here for help.

Will Pottstown have out the welcome hand? Will they say, Yes, brother we want to help you? Will they say You can share with us our blessings?

Now we will see if Pottstown really is anxious to show that it is its brother's keeper.

North Coventry, too, could repent and come in. Join Pottstown for lower sewer taxes should be the motto.

Retirement Age Too Low

To the Editor: While a great political effort is being made to establish Federal aid for the elderly, an army of senior citizens would deem it a great boon if the compulsory retirement age were raised from 65 to, say, 70.

That's all the Federal aid they would want.

Experience Still Best Teacher

To the Editor: The citizens of the communist countries have no means of changing the economic system under which they live. They have no vote, in any real sense of the term. The state, with all its apparatus of ruthless power, sees that they obey—or else.

But there are free countries where, in past times, socialism has made tremendous strides. And in certain conspicuous cases the pendulum has now swung the other way.

The outstanding example is England.

The Labor party, once transcendent with its program of total nationalization, is out of power, and many competent observers believe that, unless it materially modifies its position, it will continue to go down hill and into eventual extinction as a political force.

The Conservative government, reelected last Fall with a far heavier parliamentary majority than even the most sanguine expected, is following policy of all-out encouragement to private enterprise.

The British people, and particularly the younger people, have proven with their ballots that this policy has majority approval and enthusiasm.

Now Sweden provides another example. Her leading party, the Social Democrats, has in past times urged a program of total nationalization comparable to that of the British Labor party.

But, apparently, a great change is about to take place. A new proposed program states: "The Social Democratic party will support those forms of enterprise and ownership which best serve material progress and human welfare. It will favor public ownership and public control of natural resources and enterprises insofar as they are necessary to safeguard important interests of the citizens. It will encourage private enterprise in those fields in which it proves able to combine efficiency and the will to progress with responsibility toward the consumers, the employes and the community."

This, in the light of the party's past position, marks a very important switch indeed.

Britain and Sweden have had a long and costly experience with socialism. Now they are beginning to turn their backs on it. May we be wise enough to learn from their examples.

Right With Country?

To the Editor: Too often the pressure groups measure the suitability of a lawmaker by the number of times he voted "right" with them.

Just as frequently, politicians go before the voters to boast of their "rightness" with labor, the farmer, the veteran, or whoever.

It would be refreshing for a change to see a candidate get up and contend that he had tried for the last two or four or six years to vote "right" with the United States.

This country will be moving toward real political maturity when men seeking office are judged on this broad plane, rather than by the narrow gauge of service to limited interests.

But, for the most part, neither the politicians nor the people they represent seems close today to the threshold of that maturity.

Jottings in Pencil

NAT "KING" Cole is packing the Cocoanut Grove these evenings. At a get together after his performance he told me that the "spectacular" he taped and aired in London would have cost a quarter-million here. "I only had to work a total of 12 consecutive hours on the whole show," Nat said enthusiastically.

"Everything was so perfectly organized and rehearsed before I got there, I just stepped in like the last piece in a completed jig-saw puzzle." Nat and his manager Carlos Gastel are showing the tape to the networks for beaming this Summer.

His recent seven-weeks nitery swing through Europe from Scandinavia to Italy was most successful. At a royal command performance for a London charity he met the Duke of Edinburgh ("a fascinating man and a great jokester") who told him, "I'm getting an awful lot of your records. I don't know where they're coming from." "You'll get the bill!" Nat kidded him.

On Aug. 5 Nat will take his wife and children to Monaco where he has been invited to perform with others for Princess Grace's annual charity benefit. And next Fall he plans to star in a Broadway musical tentatively titled, "I'm With You", a sort of "Our Town" with music.

ALLEGORICALLY SPEAKING: Most show people have a language all their own. They say one thing and mean another. Some dialogue typical to the entertainment world follows:

"I'm between pictures." Means the actor hasn't worked since his last picture. (This probably was "The Birth Of a Nation.)

"Don't call me, I'll call you." Reduced to its most elementary terms, this means "Drop Dead".

"Let's have lunch together real soon." This is a beaut. The most common interpretation is "What a bore, I've got to get out of here!" The catch word here is "real," and the number of of times it's repeated usually indicates the number of years the person who utters the phrase hopes he doesn't see you.

"My best scene landed on the cutting room floor." This is a very sneaky statement. Actually, the actress was playing third base in a mob scene.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

LOIS L., aged 16, is an attractive high schooler.

"Dr. Crane, do modern psychologists believe in dreams?" she asked during a forum at her big high school.

"For example, last night I dreamed I was shipwrecked in the South Seas. But I didn't drown. Instead, I swam until the waves carried me upon a wide beach of what appeared to be an island.

"Everything seemed beautiful and the weather was like Summer. I wondered if the island was inhabited.

"Suddenly, some savages rushed out of the trees and started chasing me.

"I was frightened and ran as fast as I could, but they chased me and kept hurling spears at me.

"THE LEADER, who was a handsome, bronze-colored young man, finally almost overtook me. His spear hit me and I wondered if I would die.

"But it didn't seem to hurt — — and then I woke up: Dr. Crane, what causes such weird dreams?"

Dreams used to be regarded as prophetic. You Bible scholars will thus remember how Joseph interpreted Pharoah's famous dreams about the forthcoming big harvests that were to be followed by famine.

The ancient oracles and wise men devoted a great deal of time to dreams.

But scientists in the last century finally discarded dreams, much as hypnosis was ridiculed by scientists till recently.

THEN DR. Freud launched his theories of psychoanalysis in 1899 and restored dreams to a scientific status, saying they often furnished valuable data about subconscious hatreds and complexes, fears and secret desires.

"Yes, Dr. Crane," you may exclaim, "but didn't Dr. Freud say all dreams deal with repressed sexual urges?"

No, Dr. Freud did not hold such a narrow view.

He recognized that a thirsty man in the Sahara would be far more likely to dream about cold springs of water than bathing beatuties:

Moreover, a starving man dreams of that which will satisfy his basic hunger, namely, Thanksgiving banquets, hamburgers, etc.

In like manner, if you kick off the bed covers on a cold night and a frigid breeze strikes your feet, you will be likely to dream about walking on snow or ice in your bare feet as you vainly seek warmth.

But Dr. Freud realized that most people go to bed with plenty of food and liquid in their system. And they have well heated homes.

So what are likely to be the basic, unsatisfied cravings of modern Americans?

Romance: Indeed, young folks go on a date and the girl may kiss her escort goodnight at 2 a. m.

Her erotic appetite is vaguely stimulated. So she climbs into bed with no craving for hamburgers or iced drinks but with a natural urge for more affection.

Interpreting The News

Senators Increase Military Budget

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
Associated Press Observer

A Senate subcommittee—in a postsummit mood to swell the nation's military muscle—added more than 600 million dollars to the defense money bill Tuesday. Other increases seemed certain.

Its most important decision was to restore 293 million dollars for a new conventionally powered carrier—money the House had denied entirely. The Senate appropriations group's move was a big victory for the Navy.

The actions—and the subcommittee's work was not yet finished—indicated an over-all Senate bill totaling more than 40 billion dollars for the bookkeeping year starting July 1. This would top President Eisenhower's requests and the House figure by perhaps a billion dollars.

While the subcommittee was ploughing through the giant bill, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told newsmen he expects the Senate to make "substantial increases" in certain key military items over totals the House passed before the summit talks collapsed in mid-May.

The House bill came to $39,337,867,000. This was only $121,967,000 more than Eisenhower asked. But the House Appropriations Committee reshaped vital parts of the President's military budget to furnish hundreds of millions of dollars more for preparations the House group considered urgent.

The subcommittee also went along with an administration bid to cancel a House-voted 3 per cent across-the-board-cutback in certain kinds of procurement. This is worth about 400 million dollars.

In other major moves, the subcommittee:

1. Agreed with the House in approving a 241-million-dollar increase to pay for five more missile-firing submarines and advance items for seven others. The administration sought funds to finish three Polaris-type subs and to buy gear for six more yet to be built.

2. Sustained a House action tacking on $105,400,000 to keep the Army National Guard at 400,000 men and the Army Reserve at 300,000. The administration had asked a 10 per cent manpower cut in these forces.

3. Disapproved 50 million dollars the House voted for two new antisubmarine destroyer escorts and 71 million to build a nuclear-powered hunter-killer submarine. This left money in the bill for three such subs.

4. Restored 20 million of 33 million the House ordered slashed from Pentagon administrative allotments and 14 million of 35 million cut by the House from military travel funds.

The subcommittee's actions are subject to approval or disapproval by the full committee and then by the Senate. Any differences with the House will have to be compromised after the Senate passes its version.

Your Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

ARE SUN tan lotions any good?

Of course they are, at least many of them are. Some, however, may be too effective.

The sun's ultraviolet rays do more than cause sunburn. They also manufacture vitamin D in the skin. And when you soak a youngster's skin with heavy coats of some protective lotions, you don't give these healthful rays a chance to get through.

You may block out all chances of sunburn, but you block out the formation of needed vitamin D at the same time.

Most kids can safely begin their daily sunbaths with about a five-minute exposure the first day. Exceptions are redheads and blondes, who probably will burn more easily because of their fair skin. Two minutes on the first day is probably enough for them.

I know you don't want your youngsters to be burned and I don't, either, but it's probably best not to use any lotion at all during this initial exposure period.

Gradully, this unprotected exposure to the sun can be increased a few minutes each day.

Now let's get back to suntan lotions.

Once the allotted exposure time without their aid is over, it's time to put on the lotion. And this is when you want a lotion that really screens out the harmful rays.

I think you will find that yellow petroleum jelly provides an effective screen. So do many of the commercial lotions and oils.

In order to be on the safe side, I suggest that you reapply the suntan protection at least every two hours or so. Naturally, if you or the kids go into the water or roil around in the sand much, you might have to do it more frequently.

Many persons, unfortunately, try to determine when they or their children have had enough sun, not by timing the exposure period, but by the color of the skin. They believe that it's safe to wait until the skin takes on a red flush.

Unfortunately, by this time it's usually much too late to prevent a nasty sunburn.

Surrogate Asks Reply To Gamble's Fund Claim

NEW YORK (AP)—A 19-year-old heiress to a family fortune told a court Tuesday she is a poor girl desperately in need of money to live on.

Gamble Benedict, now married to Andre Porumbeanu, 35-year-old former chauffeur, does not legally come into her inheritance for two years. She pleaded that she and her husband are without funds.

She asked the court for an accounting of the estate left to her and her brother, Douglas, in the will of her mother, Mrs. Josephine Benedict Sharpe, who died Feb. 10, 1946.

She also requested $1,500 a month from her mother's estate to live on until she reaches the age of 21.

Surrogate S. Samuel DiFalco immediately ordered her grandmother, Mrs. Katherine Geddes Benedict, to show cause on June 14 why Gamble should not receive the $1,500 a month.

The surrogate also directed the grandmother to show cause on the same date why she, as custodian of the money left to Gamble and her brother, should not file an accounting of Mrs. Sharpe's estate.

The estate has been valued at about $750,000.

In an affidavit filed with the surrogate, Gamble said:

"I have been kept completely in the dark as to what has transpired in the administration of the estate. I have not received a single penny from the estate."

Andre and Gamble were married about two months ago in North Carolina after a romance that spanned two continents. In December she ran away to Paris with the ex-chauffeur while he was still married. A family lawyer brought her home.

Andre later obtained a Mexican divorce. This divorce is being contested by his former wife, Mrs. Helma Madin Porumbeanu. Helma also is seeking $250 a week in alimony pending trial of her separation suit. She contends the Mexican divorce is invalid.

But meanwhile, Gamble maintained, she and her husband must have money to live on because he cannot find a job.

Gamble said in one portion of her affidavit, "I am happily married, and I receive great love and affection from my husband and the same is reciprocated by me."

Whalemeat Smell Causes Strike

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, England (AP) — Twenty-four angry stevedores went on strike Tuesday because even their best friends don't like to be near them.

The trouble is they smell—and smell as only men can smell who have spent eight hours handling overripe whalemeat.

Three hundred other stevedores walked out in sympathy with their aromatic mates. By afternoon all Newcastle docks were at a standstill. Eight ships were idled.

The strikers say they have no bathhouse at the docks. They have been ordered off city buses and need private transport to get home.

"It is most unfair to them that they should have to mix with the public on their way home — and most unfair to the public as well," said a union official.

"The men smell terrible when their shift is over. They have been extremely embarrassed."

At a strike meeting, the men decided to go back Wednesday if transportation is provided. The employers said transport is the men's affair and they could avoid ostracism by taking a change of clothing to work.

Lollobrigida Family Arrives in Canada

TORONTO (AP)—Gina Lollobrigida arrived smiling at Malton airport today to become Toronto's newest immigrant.

The Italian movie star, her husband Dr. Milko Skofic, 39, and their 2½-year-old son Milko Jr., arrived aboard a Trans-Canada Viscount from New York. They were given a warm reception by members of the Toronto Italian community. Shortly after stepping on Canadian soil—her third visit to this country—Miss Lollobrigida, 32, was asked if one day she planned to become a Canadian citizen.

She replied, with a broad grin: "Yes."

The star's husband and son are stateless. The Italian government contends that Skofic, a Yugoslav refugee, could have obtained Italian citizenship if he had asked for it and that their son would automatically be Italian. Miss Lollobrigida says they applied for this, but in one bureaucratic muddle after another, they had been refused.

HONORED STUDENT—James H. Herberger, a 1959 graduate of Pottstown High school, was awarded a handbook of chemistry and physics by the chemistry department, Pennsylvania State university, University park.

In a letter to Havard E. Fosnocht, superintendent of the Pottstown school district, Edgar F. Bertaut, assistant professor of chemistry, said, Harberger earned the award "for excellence in beginning chemistry . . . this student was among the top 1.5 pecent of students in his first chemistry course here.

"Since the academic performance of a student of Pennsylvania State University reflects very markedly the training he received in his secondary school, it is quite appropriate that we congratulate you and your staff on the achievement of your former student," Bertaut said.

Auxiliary of Pottstown Hospital Hears Report on Nursing School From Director

A resume of the history and present standing of Pottstown hospital School of Nursing was given by its director, Johanna Broske at a meeting of the hospital auxiliary Tuesday afternoon at Brookside country club.

The school was chartered in 1894 and opened with two students taking a one year course. In September there will be 65 students in the school, the largest enrolment in its history.

Training was extended to two years in 1900 and a three year course was instituted in 1908 and is still in effect.

Miss Broske said the increased enrolment brings its own headaches, of housing and finding scholarships for trainees needing them.

She pointed out that the expense of maintaining the school at the level needed for State accreditation is great and not covered by tuition. Faculty salaries alone amount to more than $30,000 a year.

There is no endowment and the deficits must be taken care of by the hospital. Tuition for the course is $415, paid so much each year. Three hundred twenty dollars is spent on each entering student before she has had a day in class.

In an effort to cut deficits, girls will be required to buy their own uniforms beginning with next year's entering class.

Miss Broske said student nurses no longer work 12-hour days. Their work-week is 40 hours and each has two days off duty. They receive 28 days vacation, six legal holidays and one religious holiday. These hours are set by the State.

"The girls work hard and they deserve the time off," the nursing director commented.

For the last three consecutive years not one of Pottstown's graduates has failed her State board examinations, Miss Broske stated with pride.

Miss Broske was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. John B. Hartenstine Jr.

The meeting was conducted on the country club porch by Mrs. Carson C. Potter. Before the business session a buffet luncheon was served.

Mrs. Sam H. Keiser Sr., ways and means committee chairman announced more than $18,000 was raised by various projects throughout the year.

Mrs. Mildred Heffner, reporting for the sewing committee, said 2110 new pieces and 11 draperies were made for the hospital and hundreds of pieces were mended.

Membership chairman, Mrs. Robert Hutton presented the name of Mrs. Edward Hunnicutt for reinstatement into membership. She reported 19 new members and nine lost through resignation during the year.

Mrs. Cecil W. Hancox reported on the remembrance fund.

Mrs. Potter reported on attending a meeting of hospital auxiliary presidents in Wyomissing.

Auxiliary parliamentarian, Mrs. Jack R. Wennersten then installed the following officers, all re-elected: president, Mrs. Potter; recording secretary, Mrs. Leonard Huff; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Richard Epehimer, and treasurer, Mrs. M. H. Gulack who has served the auxiliary in this office for eight years.

Bible Class Has Picnic-Meeting at Edward Murrays

A picnic supper preceded a meeting of the Daughters of the King's Bible class of Searles Memorial Methodist church Tuesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murray, 247 Prospect street.

During the business session, Mrs. Elsie Boyer led devotions and presided.

Members voted to give a contribution to assist those stricken in the Chilean earthquake.

Since new windows are being placed in the sanctuary, members decided to pay for one of them.

Plans for a breakfast in August were discussed.

Attending were: Mrs. Nellie Bush, Mrs. Elsie Boyer, Mrs. Kenneth Buckwalter, and children; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Drumheller, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lightcap, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Myers.

Also, Mrs. Leta Gaul, Mrs. Warren Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. George Root, Mrs. Jacob Wahl, Mrs. Joseph Walker, Mrs. Rose Smedly and the hosts.

And, Marlyn Klein and James Orandosh.

Brother of Bridegroom Officiates At Derstine-Kirtner Marriage Rites

White gladioli, carnations, chrysanthemums and palms decorated the altar of St. James Evangelical Lutheran church, Limerick, for the marriage of Joyce Elaine Kirtner and Jac Delmar Derstine.

Officiating at the double ring service Saturday was the Rev. William A. Derstine, brother of the bridegroom. He was assisted by the Rev. George W. Ziegler, pastor.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kirtner, resides at Royersford RD 1. Mr. Derstine is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Abram N. Derstine, 634 Vine street, Stowe.

Prior to the ceremony, a recital of bridal music was presented by Raye Ash, organist, and Elaine Grimes, soloist.

Two hundred guests attended from: Royersford, Spring City, Phoenixville, Doylestown, Limerick, Stowe, Pottstown, Birdsboro, York, Parker Ford, Schwenksville, Collegeville, Norristown, Douglassville, Perkasie, Morgantown, Chester Springs, Telford, Souderton.

And, Reading, Philadelphia, Boyertown, Langhorne, Quakertown, Willow Grove, Virginia, California, Arizona and Florida.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace and satin. The lace bodice extended to a V at the waistline in front and back. Sequins embroidered the sabrina neckline. The embroidery was repeated on the peplum of chantilly lace.

The skirt was formed of alternating tiers of sequin-embroidered chantilly lace and shirred tulle and swept into a chapel train.

Her aurora borealis headpiece, with drop pearl, was worn with a fingertip veil of tulle edged with lace, spearkled with sequins, to match the gown.

She carried a white orchid in a lily of the valley corsage which was placed in the center of a cascade of white carnations and shower of white satin ribbon.

A hat of lace and tulle, trimmed with roses, completed her attire.

Bridesmaids were: Mrs. Richard Saylor, 107 Second avenue, Royersford; Mrs. Granville Miller, 712 South Fourth avenue, Royersford; Mrs. Robert Huzzard, Spring City RD 1, and Mrs. Joseph Bressi, 705 North Charoltte street.

They were gowned like the honor attendant in shades of lilac, mint green, pink and blue. Their lace hats and ribbon on their cascade bouquets of white carnations matched their gowns.

Karen Frech, niece of the bridegroom and Beverly J. Huzzard served as flower girls in gowns of yellow net and sheer. Their bonnets were of tulle and satin. They carried fans of white petite fleurs in yellow net with a shower of matching ribbons.

Donald S. Ronnie, The Hill school, was best man for his brother-in-law. Ushers were: Donald E. Kirtner, brother of the bridge, Royersford RD 1; George Smith, 704 Vine street, Stowe; Granville Miller, cousin of the bride, 712 South Fourth avenue, Royersford, and Joseph Bucciaglia, 19 Berks street, Stowe.

Mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Derstine, wore white accessories and a white orchid corsage with her navy blue eyelet dress.

As her going-away costume, the new Mrs. Derstine wore a navy blue linen-rayon ensemble consisting of a sheath dress with three-quarter length coat, embroidered in white, and white accessories.

She also wore a white orchid corsage taken from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside at Royersford RD 1 following a week-long honeymoon in Canada.

A graduate of Royersford High school with the class of 1954, the bride is employed by the National Bank of Royersford.

Her husband attended West Pottsgrove High school and was graduated from Lincoln College Preparatory school, Philadelphia, with the class of 1959. He served four years with the U.S. Navy and is employed by Fuller Brush company.

Pre-nuptial parties were given by the attendants and by the bride's co-workers.

"What Should I Do About A Fruit Juice Stain?"—Mrs. A. M. M.

Dear Mrs. A. M. M.:

Everything depends upon the fabric on which the stain appears. That is why it is easiest and safer to let your professional drycleaner handle the garment. If the fabric is washable, fruit and berry juices can often be removed with water. Do not use soap, it may set the stain. If, after water treatment, the fruit or berry stain persists, then you must have professional care, to save the garment.

If you are not certain about the fabric you are treating, apply the stain removal process to an inner seam or to a swatch of the material to gauge its reaction to your treatment. Stain removal can be tricky with so many different fabrics and colors and weaves that a special skill has been developed to treat them. A variety of removal agents and special tools are used by the expert drycleaner. Most thrifty home-makers prefer to mark the stain, identify its cause, and employ a professional drycleaner to remove it. They feel that the small charge for his skill often saves an entire garment.

To solve your fabric problems address questions to Clothes Care, Madison and Cross Sts., Pottstown, Pa.

Seasholtz Family Annual Reunion Staged at Zern's Grove, Gilbertsville

Descendants of Frank and Catherine Seasholtz, almost all of whom have been or are residents of the Pottstown, Gilbertsville and Boyertown areas, gathered at Zern's grove, Gilbertsville, for their annual reunion.

This year's event was one of the largest in the group's history. Games were conducted throughout the afternoon and evening and with the games, a multitude of prizes were offered under the direction of Lawrence H. Buchert.

A silent prayer was given in memory of two who died during the last year, Mrs. Annie Seasholtz, of Gilbertsville, and her son, Roy Seasholtz, of the same address.

For the last several years, Mrs. Seasholtz had received prizes for being the oldest family member.

This year the prize was given to Hezekiah Buchert, Gilbertsville. Youngest was Eleanor Buchert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Buchert, Gilbertsville.

Officers for next year's event were elected as follows: president, John Hilbert Sr., Gilbertsville; vice president, Charles Seasholtz, former Boyertown resident now living in Telford; secretary, Curtis A. Nyce, Souderton; treasurer, Edward Seasholtz, Bethlehem.

Named to the game committee were John Hilbert Jr., Gilbertsville, and Elwood Seasholtz, Red Hill.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Seasholtz and children, Roseann, Donna and Pamela, Red Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence S. Buchert and son, Robert, Englesville; Mr. and Mrs. John Hilbert Jr., and daughters, Debbie and Cindy, Gilbertsville.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Buchert Jr. and children, Terry Lynn and Wilson 3d, Temple; Mr. and Mrs. Cosmo Ricca and children, Sandy, Brenda, John and Betty, New Jersey; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy W. Steltz and children, Sherry and Ronald, Pottstown.

And, John R. Seasholtz Sr., Pottstown, and son, John Jr., Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buchert and daughters, Peggy and Patricia; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hilbert Sr., Gilbertsville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seasholtz, Telford.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood F. Seasholtz and children, Richard, Jeffrey and Pamela, Bethlehem; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis A. Nyce and son, Dale, Souderton, and grandchildren, Sylva, Donald and Dawn Smith, Pottstown.

And, Sherry Greisamer, Quakertown; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis W. Buchert and children, Joey and Debbie; Mr. and Mrs. Wilson L. Buchert and daughter, Candy, all of Temple; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Buchert and children, Lawrence, David, Martha and Eleanor, Gilbertsville.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. John Wentzel and daughter, Christie Lynn, Pottstown; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Mathias and son, Ronald, Gilbertsville; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Seasholtz and children, Thomas, Ralph, Eileen, Daniel and Michael, Pleasant Run.

And, Mrs. Joseph E. Morganti, Temple; Mrs. Calvin Seasholtz, Gilbertsville, and granddaughters, Debra Dierolf and Rosemary Oswald, of Gilbertsville and Boyertown; Alice B. Seasholtz, Allentown; Hezekiah Buchert, Richard Buchert and daughter, Betty, Boyertown, and Evelyn and Dennis Beaver, Pottstown.

THIS is the month of weddings, and whether you are bride, bridesmaid, mother of the bride or groom, or a guest, there's great joy in selecting a dress for the happy occasion. This is no time for second best—you deserve a lovely creation to add sparkle and pleasure to the day. And the most practical answer to the question, "Where shall I find this important dress?" is the one shop that specializes in fashions for every memorable occasion, the one shop with a large enough selection of styles—

THE BRIDE SHOP 372 High street! You'll be so glad you decided to shop at this beautiful store when you see the large selection of "one - of-a-kind" dresses! There are so many in your size that you'll find just the style you had in mind! And the prices range from $22.95, with a large group at that price, many at $25 and $29.95 and some that are priced higher. Fashions for Summer 1960 include many smart black and white dresses, many lovely floral prints, and an emphasis on pastel gingham checks, soft plaids and stripes. Some of the pastel dresses are iced with white lace, appliqued flowers, or embroidery. Some dresses are sophistocated, some demure, some can even be worn with casual accessories as afternoon dresses. And only at The Bride Shop would you expect to have a dress altered without charge! Each dress that leaves this shop has a "made for you" look because it is so carefully altered for YOU! Brides-to-be know that The Bride Shop offers so many extra services it would be downright foolish to shop elsewhere! Their expert Bridal Consultant, Miss Lenny Holland-Moritz, helps with all phases of planning the wedding, answers questions, solves problems, and keeps a sharp eye on the budget to prevent "overspending!" A Bride Shop bride is serene and calm because she knows that her wedding is perfectly planned to the tiniest detail! Whether you are a bride-to-be, a bridesmaid, or a gal in search of a really outstanding dress at a sensible price, I'm sure you will be delighted when you shop at The Bride Shop! Hours are daily from 9:30 until 9. Saturdays from 9:30 until 5:30.

Light up the Summer night with pretty candles! Cast a soft glow on the table, add interest to that corner of the patio, illuminate a pretty display of roses, float candles in a pool, or find your own wonderful way to light up the night! Candles in fishnet-encrusted glass are available in Sapphire, Turquoise, Amethyst or Emerald at

OLIVER LEWIS CHRISTMAN'S FLOWER AND GIFT SHOP, located at High and Warren streets. They are just $2.25 each and will burn for at least a hundred hours casting a lovely fragrance through the air. Be sure you see the pretty bridal window at Oliver Lewis Christman's. There are many beautiful settings with the artistic creations of Wedgwood, Spode, Royal Worchester, Stieff, Gensee, Dorothy Thorpe, Dirlyte, and many other famous names. The oil painting of a bride is an example of the type portrait John Peirce does for brides from a wedding picture. The entire window display is coordinated to show the brides and what might be their tableware patterns. For example Wedgwood's "Gold Florentine" is placed on a Belgium lace cloth ($75) with lovely golden-hued silver by Dirlyte and stemware by Dorothy Thorpe of California. Do stop and see this window at Oliver Lewis Christman's!

An interesting part of any newspaper is a column written by a doctor. Whether they give medical or psychological advice I always read them. I noticed an article by two famous doctors that advised a mother to plan a typewriting course for her teenage daughter. This is expert advice, and may I add my bit of information that

THE POTTSTOWN BUSINESS SCHOOL, 313 High street (second floor) is offering teenage typing during the Summer? Why don't you stop at the school now and see Mr. Harold Begel, or telephone FA 6-5798 to be sure that your son or daughter can enroll for this interesting and helpful class? It is an excellent and inexpensive way for them to learn this important skill in a short time. It will help them get better grades, will help them in personal ways and they will find it easier to do homework. (P.S. teenagers always enjoy this course!)

Doesn't it sound sensible that a company which has made watches for more than a hundred years would create a finer watch? To me it does, especially when it is a Swiss company that has been known for quality all those years! I saw the world's most modern self-winding watch, the

ETERNA-MATIC AT ANDRE'S JEWELRY AND GIFT SHOP, located at 12 South Charlotte street, just a few steps from High. This watch has a recessed crown and is the first and only self-winding watch on a ball bearing which polishes as it works, eliminating friction and wear. There are men's and ladies' styles to choose from in stainless steel and gold, with 17 jewels, they are anti-magnetic, shock-protected, water resistant, and have unbreakable mainsprings. You would expect a precision, lifetime watch like this to cost a great deal, but the ETERNA-MATIC is priced at only $85 and higher. Andre's Jewelry and Gift Shop has this and many other famous names in watches. Stop in and see this proud selection. For the graduate, for a special anniversary gift, for a gift to the groom or bride, or for Dad—what could be more appropriate than a watch from Andre Jewelers?

Every woman deserves the treat of having her hair done professionally. Not only does a trip to the beauty shop add to your good looks, but it is pleasantly relaxing and it saves time and effort. If you are a thrifty lass you will be happy to hear about ALBERT'S BEAUTY SALON, 366 High street! They offer special low prices on shampoo, setting, hair cut and tint as well as specials on permanents! Park free at Dick's Parking Lot a few steps away from this lovely shop! There are six licensed operators to serve you so that you never need wait for your appointment and you can usually get an appointment that exactly suits your schedule! This immaculate shop is attractive and the personnel are friendly, anxious to please. Why not dial FA 3-6040 for your appointment today? It's a "pretty" idea to visit Albert's!

If you are expecting a baby I'll bet you have set the date of arrival! Just for fun, why don't you register that "guess" as to the day baby will arrive! Write your name and your baby's expected birth date in the Baby Book at the Maternity Department of KESSLER'S, 264-266 High street, and you have a chance of winning a $10 Gift Certificate award if you guess closest to the date of baby's actual birth! Every month Kessler's give this gift to a lucky mother, and it could very well be you! Wouldn't this be an excellent way to start off that back-to-normal wardrobe? Right now you will enjoy browsing through Kessler's lovely Maternity fashions! There are dressy dresses, casual separates, sports wear, bathing suits, and lingerie for your selection. And you get free parking, free gift wrapping, a free candy treat and a convenient monthly or long term charge plan. "Isn't It Great To Shop at Kessler's!"

LEVITZ, 212 High street, and seeing their air conditioners and fans. The lowest prices in the entire area are on famous quality name brands. Their large selection of fans include portable, reversible window fans with thermostats by Vernco in all sizes. Air Conditioners by Philco and General Electric are almost soundless, fit beautifully into your decorations, and are very thin. The size range is from 6000 to 16000 B.T.U. Many models need no installation but can be plugged in to your electric socket. Whether you want a kitchen, a bedroom or a recreation room air conditioned, or every room of your home, Levitz will do the job for less!

Dr. J. R. Schmidt Hosts Meeting of Area Hunt Club

Dr. J. Ross Schmidt was host to a meeting of Bellwood Hunt club at his home, 417 Highland road.

The group discussed building another kennel at the farm of Alvin Christman, Saylor's Mill road, master of the hunt club, to better house the young foxhounds that have been born to the club hounds.

The club's annual horse show, August 28 at the riding school of Knute Rondum, Valhalla stables, Chester county, was discussed.

Twenty classes for children and adults will be featured. Mr. Rondum, horse show committee chairman, reported each class will give to the winners a trophy and four ribbons.

The death of Roy Forges, a member of long standing, was noted. He was an ardent fox-hunter and seldom missed a hunt, following the hounds and horses in his car when he was too incapacitated to ride.

Major Hollow 4-H Club Has Health Meeting

A health meeting of the Major Hollow 4-H club took place at the home of a leader, Mrs. Charles Mogel, 23 Benner road, Royersford.

President Susan Tyson conducted the session. Carol DeWalt reported on a program committee meeting.

Following a discussion of the 4-H club camp, the girls decided that Summer meetings will take place in the mornings and afternoons.

Mrs. John Flynn, Royersford, a leader, gave members lists of ingredients for cooking at the next meeting, June 29, at her home.

Other leader attending was Mrs. Harry Astheimer.

Girls attending were: Cynthia Mogel, Susan Tyson, Jane Astheimer, Mary Ann Flynn, Shirley Weaver, Carol DeWalt, Trudy and Barbara Major.

Rev. Paul W. Yoh Reads Nuptial Rites For Harold Blaine Greer, Virginia Himes

The marriage of Virginia Lamae Himes and Harold Blane Greer was solemnized in St. Peter's United Church of Christ by the Rev. Paul W. Yoh.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Susan Himes, Elverson RD 1, and the late Ivan R. Himes. Mr. Greer is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roby Greer, Troutdale RD 1, Va.

Mrs. Clarence Lynn, organist, presented a recital of bridal music prior to the ceremony. Soloist was Mrs. George Houck.

White gladioli decorated the church.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Benjamin Pennypacker, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of chantilly lace and tulle styled with a sabrina neckline, outlined in iridescents, and long tapered sleeves.

The bouffant skirt of tulle featured lace appliqués in an intricate scroll design.

Iridescents also trimmed her headpiece which secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion. Her white Bible was topped with an orchid and streamers of lilies of the valley.

The bride's pearl necklace and earrings were a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Howard Greer, Pottstown Route 18, served as matron of honor for her sister. She wore a dress of white flocked nylon fashioned with a sleeveless bodice and scoop neckline. The draped cummerbund was in Nile green taffeta.

Cut velvet flowers formed a border at the hem of the bouffant skirt.

To complete her attire, she wore a Nile green headpiece of tiny blossoms and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Best man was Howard Greer, brother of the bridegroom. Earl Lewis, St. Peters, and Fred Shomper, Pottstown RD 2, seated the guests.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Himes, received in a blue lace dress, white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

A reception took place in the church school house, Knauertown.

Herter Believes Eisenhower Will Take Japan Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said Tuesday that, despite growing concern about what troubles President Eisenhower may run into in Japan, "no change is contemplated" in his first visit there June 19-22.

The statement was issued by Mrs. Anne Wheaton, associate press secretary, in response to reporters' inquiries, she said. There have been demonstrations by leftist groups in Japan against Eisenhower's visit and threats to continue them if he does come.

"The purpose of the visit," Mrs. Wheaton said, "was and remains the payment of a courtesy call in a great sister democracy and the furtherance of the United States-Japanese friendship in connection with the United States—Japanese centenniel celebration this year."

It was 100 years ago that formal U.S.-Japanese relations began.

The White House statement was issued a few hours after Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said he believes Eisenhower should, and will, go ahead with his plans to visit Japan.

But Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee before which Herter testified, said his misgivings about Eisenhower going have not been entirely set to rest.

Fulbright said Herter presented a persuasive case in support of Eisenhower going ahead despite left-wing demonstrations and riots in Japan against the U.S. chief of state's visit.

The secretary of state, testifying first in open session, said in reply to questions that "under existing circumstances, the President's plans ought to remain unchanged."

Then Herter asked to reserve further discussion for a closed-door session. After that 30-minute meeting, Fulbright told reporters "I got the impression the President will go."

And Herter himself told newsmen "I think so" when asked if he personally thought Eisenhower would make the trip.

Fulbright quoted Herter as saying Eisenhower would defer the visit if the Japanese government asked for a delay. But the senator said he understood that the government of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi has sent assurances that it can provide adequate security to protect Eisenhower.

The White House announced that Mrs. Eisenhower will not accompany the President on his 22,794-mile Far Eastern tour starting next Sunday.

The First Lady is hospitalized with asthmatic bronchitis. The associate White House press secretary, Ann Wheaton, said Mrs. Eisenhower is "getting along nicely" but she doesn't know if the First Lady will be able to leave the hospital.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, who is making arrangements for the President's trip, said in Manila Eisenhower would be accompanied by his daughter-in-law, Barbara. She is the wife of Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, a White House aide, who also will make the trip to Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Formosa and other Pacific points.

Brink of Disaster

42 Shows Set for Fall Postponed by Producers

NEW YORK (AP)—Broadway's blacked-out theater producers said Tuesday they are indefinitely postponing 42 shows scheduled for fall opening. The productions already were underwritten with eight million dollars in investors' money.

The theater is on the brink of economic disaster," said a spokesman for the producers, caught in the worst Broadway stage crisis in 41 years.

The decision to forget the autumn first nights came at the depth of a six-day deadlock with Actors Equity over pensions and wages. The contract impasse has closed all 22 current Broadway stage shows, three of which will not reopen. Peace talks collapsed Monday night.

The League of New York Theaters previously had held up plans for fall productions that were expected to employ 1,600 actors — twice the number idled in the current blackout.

League special counsel Burton A. Zorn said the indefinite postponement means that even with an end to the Equity deadlock it would take up to nine months to get the scheduled autumn shows on the boards.

"The league has proved that the theater is not prosperous, that, to the contrary, the theater is on the brink of economic disaster," Zorn said at a news conference.

He added that there are only 32 theaters on Broadway now and that one of these, the Playhouse, is ticketed for demolition. In 1931, Zorn said, there were 76 legitimate Broadway theaters.

Among fall shows postponed were the road tours of "Majority of One," "The King and I," "Sound of Music," "Drop of a Hat," "The Best Man," and "Fiorello." None of the seven Broadway shows currently on the road has been affected by the stage blackout.

Losses to producers in the current shutdown neared the million-dollar mark. Actors' payroll losses were above the $200,000 level. In addition, tens of thousands in wages were lost to about 4,000 idled theater technicians — stagehands, musicians, electricians and others.

Negotiations between Equity and the league broke down last night, just as their pension deadlock seemed on the verge of easing. Wages suddenly emerged anew as a major factor in the first Broadway shutdown since 1919.

Equity struck "The Tenth Man" last Wednesday night, intending a hit-and-run program of closing one theater at a time for one night at a time. Next day, the league closed all 22 Broadway shows in reprisal.

PICKET LINE RULE KEEPS BASE BOTTLED

Cape Canaveral Entrances Blocked

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — High officials in Washington ruled Tuesday that striking machinists cannot set up picket lines inside Cape Canaveral. This reversed a decision made earlier in the day by the union and Air Force officials at the Cape.

And it knocked out a plan that could have kept to a minimum any disruption of missile test launchings at this base.

If machinists had been allowed to place pickets at the operation of the contractor involved, instead of at the gates to the Cape, members of other unions who had respected the machinists' line could have returned to work. Among them are nearly 2,000 tradesmen, whose sympathy walkout halted all construction activity at the Cape.

Instead the 1,500 striking machinists will continue to picket at entrances to the Cape and the other unions probably will continue to stay off the job rather than cross the picket lines.

Maj. Gen. Leighton I. Davis, commander of the Air Force Missile Test Center, said at a news conference late Tuesday, "This morning we thought we had a solution that would result in a minimum disruption of the launching schedule.

"This involved moving the picket lines from outside the Cape and placing them on the Cape at operations of the contractor involved. However, as negotiations proceeded, we learned that this was not an acceptable solution."

Davis said that the decision came from high officials in the capital and reached him through Air Force channels. He declined to stay if the order came from the Air Force or the Department of Defense.

3000 New Yorkers Are Trapped As Subway Fire Stalls Trains

NEW YORK (AP)—A third rail flash set fire to a trash pile in the Lexington Avenue subway tunnel beneath Grand Central terminal Tuesday. Eleven rush hour trains were stalled and more than 3000 persons trapped up to three hours in choking smoke and terrifying heat and darkness.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner ordered a system-wide cleanup and safety inspection of the subways after a report on the incident from the Transit Authority.

Authority Chairman Charles L. Patterson said one of his inspectors noted the fire hazard two weeks ago on the site of a repair project. Patterson added that the private contractor on the job ignored a warning to clean up the trash and that the inspector never followed up on the matter.

One of the largest concentrations of disaster equipment in years converged on 42nd St. and Park Ave., one of the pulse centers of the city. There were no serious casualties.

About 130 persons were treated for smoke poisoning, including half a dozen police rescuers. One woman hurt her neck when she fell off a catwalk while being evacuated.

"Help me! Help me!" trapped passengers cried in a moment of initial hysteria as lights and fans went out in stalled trains and they found themselves trapped in the locked cars. Some windows were smashed.

Police said there was no panic of any proportions. The passengers were praised for their courage under conditions compelling terror. They sat quietly awaiting aid, or else groped their way through cars whose only light came feebly from small emergency bulbs.

Above ground the frenzied impetus of the morning rush hour died abruptly as thousands congregated for a glimpse of the unfolding drama. Billows of smoke rolled up through sidewalk gratings along 42nd St. from Lexington to Madison avenues.

More than 400 policemen vainly fought a traffic jam that built up when 42nd St. was cut off for five blocks from 3rd to 6th avenues. Fire and emergency apparatus blocked north and south-bound avenues.

A score of ambulances raced to the scene from nine hospitals.

Fire Commissioner Edward J. Cavanagh, his face black with soot, said the fire broke out beneath 39th St. and Lexington Ave. It blocked all four IRT tracks there.

Express Agent Finds Woman's Body In Trunk

ARGENTIA, Nfld. (AP)—A Canadian National Railway Express agent, detecting a peculiar odor in a nailed-up trunk marked fragile, opened it today and found the body of a young woman.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police in Newfoundland and police in Toronto, whence the old-fashioned wooden trunk was shipped five weeks ago, immediately began trying to trace its sender.

The trunk had been sitting at the express office at Argentia, a U.S. naval base some 85 miles from St. John's, since May 16. It was sent collect with charges totaling $17.68.

Express agent Thomas Donovan and two other men today bent over the 170-pound, four-foot trunk in the dimly lighted office and opened it. Inside was the body, wrapped in a blanket.

The girl had reddish - blonde hair. Donovan said she was about five feet tall, weighed 115 pounds, and wore a white dress. There were bloodstains on the trunk and the girl's clothing was damp, he said.

The trunk was expressed here from Toronto May 4 to a Mrs. Williams of Argentia. Officials were unable to find such a woman.

Donovan said the railway usually keeps baggage for six months then auctions it if ownership cannot be determined.

Atomic Bomarc Missile Blazes; Radiation Danger Called Slight

McGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N.J. (AP) — A slender, deadly atomic Bomarc missile, intended to take flight only in war, flamed out when a launching shelter caught fire Tuesday. It spewed forth a small amount of nuclear radiation.

"There is no radiation danger to the public," the Air Force announced. "A small amount of radioactive material was scattered in the immediate shelter area but there is no significant health hazard or contamination problem."

There were no casualties among 200 to 250 officers and men who man the Bomarc base on the fringes of Ft. Dix. However, they were being checked for the possibility of radiation exposure, despite the absence of any apparent burns.

The launching area, whence the Bomarc is able to take to the skies in long-ranging electronic quest of enemy planes or missiles, is isolated. Such noise as the flameout generated went unnoticed by residents near the base. Few even were aware a mishap had occurred.

Nevertheless, moments of uneasy tenseness followed the flare-up of the 47-foot missile. A wide area was alerted, roads were sealed off, evacuation plans were considered and a safety team with geiger counters moved through the sparsely populated pine lands surrounding the base.

The drama was heightened by an original report relayed by state police that "an atomic warhead exploded."

Much of the pressure was relieved by a Washington announcement that there had been no explosion. Officials speculated the fire may have breached the covering of the Bomarc's nuclear armament.

The Air Force was asked whether the flames, had they struck a vital mechanism, might have triggered the Bomarc into flight, sending it skimming blindly and uncontrolled along the eastern seaboard. An officer said an accidental launching of the missile by fire is impossible.

"There's no way in the world it could occur," he added.

Capt. John A. Looser, maintenance officer at the base, said the fire apparently started in the missile's fuel system.

No one was in the shelter at the time. Apparently there was a small chemical explosion, Looser said. Radiation was confined to the shelter and it was very low, he added.

The Bomarc cannot take off unless the roof of the shed is opened. The roof was closed when the fire occurred.

Two years ago, a Nike-Ajax nonatomic missile launched itself when, with seven others, it blew up at an Army base near Middletown, N.J., some 60 miles or more to the north of here. It spent itself harmlessly after a two-mile flight. Ten persons were killed in the May 22, 1958, explosion.

Public clamor at the time led to a tightened system against accidents that might endanger civilian populations in the area of missile bases.

The Air Force minimized the danger of this Bomarc mishap to civilians.

State radiation officials checked the area and said there was no nuclear contamination.

In similar incidents, the Air Force has said that minute radioactive particles might be distributed over a very limited area as the result of fire or the detonation of conventional explosives in the trigger of a nuclear load.

The fire occurred at the 46th Air Defense Missile Squadron base in nearby Jackson Township, an area of scrubby pine forests and a few farms. In 1950 its population was 3,500.

McGuire is about 20 miles southeast of Trenton, the state capital.

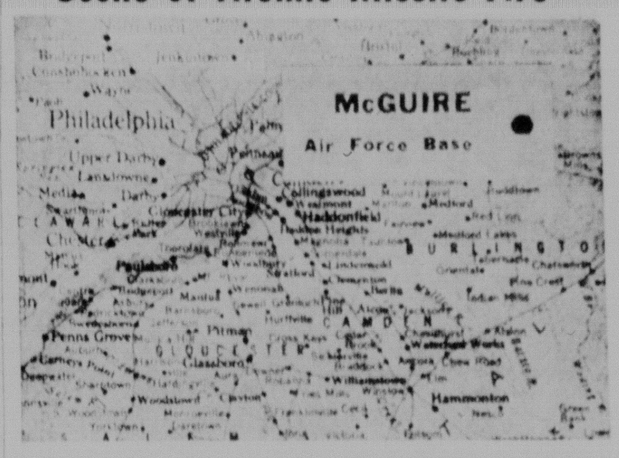

The Air Force here said the blaze broke out at 3:15 p.m. and was extinguished 45 minutes later.

A sergeant at the missile base reportedly called state police at the Ft. Dix station saying "an atomic warhead had exploded" and asked troopers to shut off the roads against the probable danger of heavy radiation. Police did so.

Several hours later traffic was allowed to resume.

JOHN KENNEDY 'FEELS SURE' OF NOMINATION

Senator Addresses Michigan Union Convention

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) said Tuesday that he is "sure" of getting the Democratic presidential nomination.

Here to address the Michigan AFL-CIO convention, Kennedy said his latest survey of delegate support convinced him he will get "more than 600 votes in the early balloting" at the party's convention in Los Angeles next month.

"I'm sure now that I'm going to get the nomination," he added at a news conference.

It takes 761 votes to nominate. Kennedy indicated this was the first time he had been so positive of winning nomination.

The 1,300 unionists at the convention gave a cheering, foot-stamping reception to the 43-year-old senator, after a glowing introduction by their president, August Scholle.

Scholle, a Democratic convention delegate, and Gov. G. Mennen Williams have endorsed Kennedy for the nomination, although Michigan's 51-vote delegation currently is pledged to Williams as a favorite son.

Kennedy said he was hopeful of getting backing from the United Auto Workers president, Walter P. Reuther, before the convention opens July 11. Reuther has taken a stand of neutrality on presidential candidates.

Kennedy said he was "very grateful" for newly announced support from Henry Steele Commanger, Amherst College president and friend of Adlai Stevenson, the party's beaten presidential nominee in 1952 and 1956.

John K. Galbraith and Arthur M. Schlesinger, Harvard University professors described as part of Stevenson's brain-trust in previous campaigns, also will back Kennedy, Commanger said.

Kennedy reserved comment on their support "until I hear from them personally."

McDonough Resigns As AFL President

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Joseph A. McDonough resigned Tuesday night as president of the AFL-Pennsylvania Federation of Labor.

McDonough said he was quitting the post in protest to the re-election of Earl H. Bohr as secretary-treasurer of the PFL. Bohr was re-elected to the $13,000-a-year post just a short while before McDonough made his announcement.

McDonough had been scheduled to share the presidency of a new statewide labor organization to be formed Thursday in a merger of the PFL and the CIO - Pennsylvania Industrial Union council. McDonough and President Harry Boyer of the CIO group were to share the presidency of the new organization until 1962.

Navy Jet Fighter Plane Smashes Into Helicopter; 4 Men Are Killed

PATUXENT, Md. (AP) — A Navy jet fighter that was shot from a catapult zoomed out of control and crashed into a helicopter ready for takeoff, killing four persons Tuesday.

Three others were injured, one critically.

Two of those killed were airmen in the helicopter, who were about to take off for another nearby air crash. The others were an ambulance driver and a member of the operations department at Patuxent Naval Air Station, the Navy announced.

A spokesman at Langley Air Force Base, Va., identified the two men killed in the helicopter as: The pilot, 1st Lt. Frank A. Williams, 30, and the crew chief, S. Sgt. Clyde A. Chatham, 25.

Williams, whose home town was Richmond, Ind., lived in Hampton, Va., with his wife, Mary, and their young son, Frank Jr. Chatham, whose home town was Jackson, Miss., lived at Poquoson, Va., with his wife, Frances.

Both men were members of 4500 Operations Sqdr. at Langley.

Names of the other two killed were withheld pending notification of next-of-kin.

The pilot of the Navy F8U Crusader jet attack plane was taken to the base hospital in critical condition.

A Navy spokesma said the F8U, which has a top speed of 1,155 miles an hour, was launched at slightly more than 100 miles an hour from a hydraulic catapult at the air station.

Witnesses said the jet shot off with one wing low, swerved and crashed into the helicopter, which had arrived shortly before from Langley. Both planes piled into a parking lot, destroying an ambulance, fire truck and several other vehicles.

Reading CC Takes Suburban Title With 4-0 Win Over Saints

—Mercury Sportsphoto

LOSES HAT BUT WINS RACE—St. Pius X outfielder Denny Psota is safe at first in sixth inning of Tuesday's Reading CC-Saint clash at Memorial park. He lost his hat on the way but beat the throw to Cardinal Butch McCloskey. Reading won 4-0 to clinch the Suburban Catholic league title.

Bill Dengler Shackles Michmen In Final Test

By DUKE DeLUCA
(Mercury Sports Writer)

Reading Central Catholic wrapped up the Suburban Catholic league baseball crown Tuesday via a 4-0 win over St. Pius X at Memorial park.

After Monday's success over the Saints at Reading, the Cardinals needed one more victory to clinch the 1960 gonfalon and had little trouble registering it with a king-size assist from the Keim streeters.

Nine St. Pius X errors helped clear the road while righthander Bill Dengler kept the Saints' offense from blocking it with a three-hit whitewash job.

Thus, Reading, with a fine 10-1 mark and one more test on the schedule, moved out of sight of second-place Bishop Kenrick's Golden Knights, who own a 9-3 completed card.

IT WAS the final bow of the season for the Saints, who ended up with a 5-7 record.

Dengler's glittering effort left little to be desired. The 5-0 slabster allowed but one man to reach third — Joe Wambach on a long first-inning triple—and was never in danger of losing his shutout after the opening frame.

He walked two and struck-out nine. Only Steve Marcheski's single in the second and Denny Psota's scratch hit in the sixth disrupted Dengler's steady progress following the Wambach blow.

Dengler's stint, however, wasn't that much better than Marcheski's. The burly Saint righthander was victimized for three unearned runs and the lofty miscue total behind him kept him in hot water.

ALTHOUGH HIS nine strikeouts pulled him out of numerous holes throughout, Marcheski had little opportunity for hole climbing in the second when the Cardinals scored twice on three hits and a similar number of bobbles.

Mike Razz opened with a single, stole second, and moved to third on John Browne's boot of Norb McLaughlin's ground ball.

Bruce Adams reached on Skip Peterson's error and the Saints eased the bases-loaded situation some with a snappy double play, pitcher to catcher to first.

The final tally came in the fifth as Adams reached on Don Kalavik's miscue and came all the way around when Pat Flanagan dropped Bill Nigrini's high hoist to right center.

The game claimed a casualty. St. Pius X outfielder Johnny Chenosky was hit on the left side of his face by a pitch in the second inning.

He was taken to Pottstown hospital by Goodwill ambulance. Reports say he suffered a possible broken nose. X-rays will be taken today.

Moore Will Defend Against Schoppner

TORONTO (AP)—Archie Moore will defend his World light heavyweight title against Germany's Erich Schoppner at Toronto's varsity stadium, Monday, July 18.

Mayor Nathan Phillips announced the date Tuesday and said representatives of the two boxers would sign the contract Wednesday in his office.

In New York, Humbert (Jack) Fugazy, managing director of Feature Sports, incorporated, confirmed the announcement.

He said his group would promote the fight in conjunction with a Toronto group. He said part of the proceeds would go to charity.

FUGAZY SAID Moore would get a $200,000 guarantee or 40 percent of the gate and TV fee, plus $7500 training expenses.

Schoppner, the 27-year-old European light heavy champ, will get $50,000 and $3000 for training expenses. There is a rematch agreement, in case Moore loses, calling for a return bout within 90 days.

The Moore-Schoppner match has been hanging fire for some time. At various times it has been proposed for Los Angeles, Milwaukee and Jersey City. Fugazy said Toronto got the fight because "they guaranteed us $150,000 gate."

Fugazy hopes to promote an Ingemar Johansson-Moore heavyweight title match in the Fall if the two champs retain their titles. Feature Sports also is promoting the Johansson-Floyd Patterson rematch in New York, June 20.

Moore last defended his title Aug. 12 when he knocked out Yvon Durelle in a rematch at Montreal. His last appearance in Toronto was July 25, 1956 when he knocked out James J. Parker.

The champ, who is 43 or 46, depending upon whose word you believe, weighed a paunchy 206½ for his May 25 match at Indianapolis with Willie Besmanoff. Of course, he must get down to the 175-pound class limit for the light heavyweight fight.

Redlegs Club Giants, 5-1; Defeat Forces West Coasters to Remain 2d

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds kept the second-place San Francisco from taking a virtual tie for the National League lead Tuesday night with a 5-1 victory over the Giants and southpaw Johnny Antonelli.

First place Pittsburgh lost to Chicago earlier in the day and a San Francisco victory would have left the Giants only five percentage points out of first. With the loss to Cincinnati, they are still a game behind.

The triumph went to 23-year-old right-hander Jay Hook, who gave up only two hits until the Giants scored a run and threatened to rally in the eighth. Then with two out and the bases jammed, reliever Bob Grim got Willie Mays on a fly to center to end the San Francisco threat.

The Redlegs collected 10 hits, including Vada Pinson's sixth homer of the season. Hook recorded his fifth victory against four setbacks while Antonelli's record now is 3-3.

BRAVES TRIP DODGERS, 6-4

Milwaukee Registers Five Unearned Runs In Wild Fifth

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves scored five unearned runs on two hits and three errors in a wild fifth inning and hung on to defeat the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-4 before 26,639 Tuesday night.

Southpaw Johnny Podres, now 4-5, was the loser, and Bob Buhl, 5-2, got the victory although he left in the seventh for Don McMahon. Buhl's lifetime record against the Dodgers now is 22-9.

Rookie Frank Howard of the Dodgers started the scoring in the second inning with his fourth home run of the season.

Del Crandall tied the score for Milwaukee with a homer over the left field screen in the third. It was his ninth. He was the hitting star for Milwaukee with three-for-four.

The Dodgers now have lost six out of their last eight games, all at home.

ROBERTS WINS SECOND WITH 7-HIT EFFORT

Pitcher Drives In Two Runs to Aid Own Cause

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Robin Roberts made the difference with his bat Tuesday night as he snapped his five-game losing streak with a 5-3 victory for the Philadelphia Phillies over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Roberts, 33-year-old right-hander whose record now is 2-7, singled in the fourth inning to drive in two runs. Dick Farrell went to his rescue in the seventh to snuff out a rally, then blanked the Cardinals the last two innings.

Bill White hit his seventh following Julian Javier's second of three singles off Roberts in the sixth.

Miller, who hadn't started in exactly a month because of shoulder trouble, suffered his first loss after two victories.

The Phillies scored once in the third on Bob Malkmus' double and Bobby Del Greco's single. They kayoed Miller in a two-run fourth. Wally Post's single, Ken Walters' double and an international walk filled the bases with none out. Ernie Broglio retired the next two batters but Roberts then delivered his two-run single.

Philadelphia picked up its fifth run on singles by Malkmus and Del Greco and a sacrifice in the seventh.

It was Roberts' first victory since April 22 when he beat Cincinnati.

Gross Memorial Semifinal Play

Four Pottstown High golfers moved into the semifinal round of the first annual Stephan Gross Memorial tournament at Brookside Country club.

Bob DeLong, Judy Maute, Al Butler and Phil Welch annexed quarterfinal duels and will battle for the right to enter the championship round.

DeLong, who eliminated Harris Levanthal, 6 and 4, will be pitted against Miss Maute, 3 and 2 winner over Bob Kovach.

Butler and Welch will hook up in the second semi pairing. Butler pushed past Gary Hauder, 7 and 6, and Welch disposed of Steve Bressler 9 and 8.

Bishop Kenrick Golfers Down Saint Swingers

PLYMOUTH — Bishop Kenrick's golfers dealt St. Pius X its sixth loss Monday at Plymouth country club in the Saints final fairway affair of the season.

The Saints, who wound up with a 2-6 mark, dropped a 14½-3½ decision as Bob Smale, number one man, was the only visitor able to post a match win.

Smale defeated Bob Gallagher, 4 and 3, but Kenrick swept the remaining five matches.

Bob Clemens scored a 1-up win over Chip Eschbach; Nick Melle bested Gerald McGinley, 3 and 2; Jack Pergive also scored a 3 and 2 win over Tom Meade; Mike McBride nipped Barry Miller, 1-up, and Gerald Price stopped Dave Czarick, also by a 1-up count.

Pacheco's Condition Still Critical

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Pacheco, a 21-year-old lightweight boxer from Puerto Rico, remained in critical condition Tuesday after suffering a knockout Monday night in a professional bout at St. Nicholas arena.

Dr. Howard Dunbar performed a 90-minute brain operation on the boxer after he failed to regain consciousness following the knockout.

The doctor said he saw some very slight improvement in Pacheco's condition although he still was very critical.

A hospital spokesman said Dr. Dunbar had removed a blood clot from Pacheco's brain. Earlier another hospital spokesman had called the fighter's condition "very, very poor" and indicated he was not expected to live.

Pacheco was stopped by Benny Gordon of New York with only 11 seconds remaining in the 0th and last round of their match.

Up to the time that referee Harold Valan stopped the bout, Pacheco was leading on one of the three official cards. The other two officials had Gordon on top.

FRANK VOYNAR also hurled three-hit ball for East Coventry. His mates backed him with a 15-hit assault and put together nine runs in the fifth.

Bob Fisher homered for the losers.

South-Coventry - Warwick scored twice in the third to break a 1-1 deadlock and added another in the fifth. Joe Dowhunick went all the way on a neat four hitter. He fanned 12.

Pirates Ink Kennedy, Former Temple Star

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday announced the signing of former baseball star Bill Kennedy from Temple university and pitcher John Eapes of Birmingham, Ala.

Kennedy, 22, is an infielder who bats and throws righthanded. He graduated from Temple in June.

Eapes is a 17-year-old righthander who starred for Woodlawn high school last season.

Both players were assigned to the Kingsport, Tenn., farm club in the Appalachian Rookie league.

Chicubs Club Law, Deal Pirates 13-2 Trouncing

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs knocked out Vern Law, the majors' winningest pitcher, with four unearned runs in the second inning and rolled to a 13-2 triumph over the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates.

The loss, Pittsburgh's third straight, cut the Pirates' National League lead to a half game over the San Francisco Giants who met Cincinnati in a West Coast night game.

Chicago's 20-year-old Dick Ellsworth scattered 5 hits for his third triumph against two defeats. Law is now 8-2.

Ellsworth, tiring after eight innings, was replaced by Moe Drabowsky at the start of the ninth. Drabowsky yielded a run on two hits.

Law, last beaten by San Francisco May 6, was victim of a staggering Pirate defense which committed four errors, including Bob Skinner's bumping of Gino Cimoli after two were out which led to four tainted runs in the fourth.

Ernie Banks led the Cubs' 16-hit attack with a pair of doubles, one a ground rule two-bagger which was almost a homer, and a single in four trips.

Banks, whose liner to the railing of the left field stands in the second was touched by a fan, drove across four runs, for a season total of 42, one behind league-leader Roberto Clemente of the Pirates. Banks left the game after swatting a sacrifice fly in the sixth, his first rest this season.

Ellsworth had a shutout until the eighth when two walks, Clemente's bunt single and Dick Stuart's fly, scored the first Pittsburgh run.

The wind-harassed Buc defense hurt Law in the opening inning as Banks' fly was lost by Cimoli for a two-bagger with two out and Ed Bouchee singled across Banks for a 1-0 Cub lead.

There were two out in the second when the Cubs scratched a couple of infield hits. Skinner then bumped into Cimoli on Bob Will's wind-blown fly to left center and two runs scored. Banks followed with a double and Walt Moryn singled across the fourth unearned run of the inning.

That was all for Law, who was followed by Paul Giel, Ben Daniels and Jim Umbricht.

Kubek, Skowron Two-Baggers Pace Yankees in 5-2 Conquest of Chisox

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony Kubek and Bill Skowron hit two-run doubles and Jim Coates pitched a four-hitter Tuesday as the New York Yankees defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-2.

Coates, unbeaten this season, registered his sixth victory as the Yankees won their first game in five meetings with the defending American League champions. Manager Casey Stengel was back in the Yankee dugout after missing a dozen games because of illness.

White Sox starter Early Wynn, the league's only 20-game winner last year, was the loser. It was the fifth defeat for the 40-year-old right-hander, who has won only twice.

The Yankees got seven of their nine hits off Wynn before he was taken out for a pinch hitter in the eight. Dick Donovan was tagged for two hits and as many runs in his one inning relief chore.

Coates, who walked only one and fanned three, was clipped for three hits in the third as the White Sox jumped off to a 2-0 lead.

Thrill Show Set For Hatfield Thursday Night

Bobbi (Barbara) Bundy, well-known girl speed driver from Beaver Dam, Wis., is among the unusual feature artists in the 1960 Joie Chitwood Thrill Show, to be presented tomorrow night at the Hatfield speedway.

Thrill show performer of several years standing, Bobbi this past Winter acquired additional prestige when she won the women's compact sports car race at Daytona Beach, Fla. Her husband, Donald (Buzz) Bundy, also performs with the Chitwood thrill troupe.

Mrs. Bundy, who plans to defend her racing laurels this Winter in Florida, this season is featured in several stunts which could well test the ability and nerve of the best of Chitwood's male performers.

New show numbers she'll ride in include the spectacular car roll-over, the aeriel crisscross and the thrill-producing high ski jump. Bobbi is recognized by many as the foremost woman thrill show chauffeur in the nation. Oddly enough, she's a floral designer by trade.

Along with hubby Buzz Bundy, the darling of the Chitwood chill cavalcade form a husband-and-wife team second to none in the thrill show business. In one particular number on the thrill show program, Buzz makes the sensational ramp-to-ramp jump while Bobbi drives a car underneath her husband's flying automobile.

Hap and Dave Roberts, popular clowns with the thrill show, always can be counted on to mix humor with the excitement of all Chitwood performances. The hide-splitting antics and mimicry of this father-and-son funny team is in contrast to the heart-stirring exploits rendered by Joie Chitwood and his ace chance-takers.

Kenilworth Tops Raiders by 5-0

Kenilworth backed up Jack Plask's one-hit pitching with a nine-hit attack that led to a 5-0 Junior league win over the Raiders at Memorial park.

Plask fanned 16 batters and walked nobody over the route. His bid for a no-hitter was spoiled by a single off the bat of Billy Keehn. He also committed a balk.

His Kenilworth mates meanwhile, picked up nine hits and scored four runs in the top of the second inning to clinch the game, but added an insurance tally in the sixth.

Kimberton Lutheran got its first real test in Pottstown Church league activity last night, and wound up in a 2-2 tie with St. James after nine innings.

The Church loop pacesetters—unbeaten after three straight outings—struck first, reaching MacShirey for a run in the first, and another in the third. Both were unearned.

St. James, 1959 runnerup, came back with a run in its half of the third, and got another in the fifth to deadlock the count. Four successive scoreless innings followed, with darkness finally halting the action.

Shirey surrendered but three hits and walked nobody over the route, while Ken Finkbiner, on the mound for Kimberton, surrendered seven bingles, including a triple by Shirey, and two walks. He struck out nine.

The tie was the second in the league this season. Second Baptist and Coventry Brethren-St. John's dueled to a 6-6 stalemate last Friday.

Town Toy Shades Elks 3-2 in K-H

Town Toy bunched three runs into the fourth and fifth innings Tuesday night, and shaded the Elks, 3-2 in a Knee-Hi tilt at Memorial park.

Overcoming a 1-0 Elks lead in the fourth with two tallies, Town Toy saw the losers tie the score with a run in the fifth, but pushed across the winning tally in their half.

Joe Wanish collected the mound victory on a four-hit effort during which he fanned 13 batters.

Cleveland Belts Bosox 12-3 With Six 'Gift' Runs

BOSTON (AP) — Cleveland, handed six unearned runs by zany Red Sox infield play, defeated Boston 12-3 Tuesday night to move within a game and a half of first place Baltimore.

The Indians' Vic Power knocked in four tallies with a homer, sacrifice fly and a single. Right-hander Jim (Mudcat) Grant coasted to his fourth pitching triumph.

But it was ex-Red Sox outfielder Jim Piersall who touched off a bizarre Cleveland fourth inning built on four errors and Power's homer. Bunching their scoring in the middle innings, the Tribe got two more unearned runs in the fifth and six earned runs in the sixth.

Piersall led off the fifth, reaching first on an error. Aspromonte's double, Kuenn's single and a Power sacrifice fly did the rest.

Fishing 'Buddies' Enjoy Giant Catch

Harry O'Neill, 158 Roland street, and Cabe Levengood, Diamond and Willow streets, journeyed to Jones river, Lebanon, Del., to indulge in their favorite pastime and returned with 19 carp ranging from 12 to 20 inches each.

The word "buddies" was not used loosely as O'Neill and Levengood have been angling together for 45 years.

TIGERS CLAW ORIOLES FOR 5-2 TRIUMPH

Mossi Twirls 6-Hitter To Gain Third Victory

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Detroit Tigers clawed the Baltimore Orioles 5-2 Tuesday night as lefty Don Mossi set down the league-leaders on six hits.

Crowd of 30,579 saw the Tigers slam starter Hoyt Wilhelm for five runs in the first four innings.

Detroit bunched eight of its 110 hits in that period, including homers by Steve Bilko and Charlie Maxwell.

The Oriole loss, coupled with Cleveland's 12-3 victory over Boston, cut Baltimore's lead 1½ games.

Mossi, who walked three and struck out four, held the Orioles scoreless until the bottom of the fourth when they put together a walk and singles by Brooks Robinson and Clint Courtney for one run. Jackie Brandt hit his sixth homer in the sixth, for their second run.

Detroit scored one in the first on singles by Eddie Yost and Al Kaline, added another in the second on Bilko's fourth homer and two in the third when Maxwell slammed his eighth homer after Yost doubled.

Killebrew Helps Senators Whip Kansas City, 7-2

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rattling out 15 hits, including Harmon Killebrew's fourth homer, Washington whipped Kansas City, 7-2, Tuesday night and took sixth place from the Athletics.

Camilo Pascual, starting for the first time since his May 27 fracas with Boston's Pete Runnels, pitched his sixth victory with help from Tex Clevenger over the last 2 2-3 innings.

Pascual yielded only three hits but Manager Cookie Lavagetto figured Pascual was tiring when the Cuban issued his first walk with one out in the seventh and worked the count to two balls and no strikes on Bill Tuttle.

Clevenger came in to retire eight of the last nine batters.

Earl Battey and Bill Gardner each had three hits as the Senators hit safely in every inning against loser Ray Herbert and four successors.

Killebrew, in addition to his leadoff homer in the seventh, had a run-scoring single. The two A's runs came on solo homers by Norm Siebern and Russ Snyder.

Lions, Optimists Gain Connie Mack Wins; Steelers, Judges In 9-9 Tie

Pottstown's Baby Steelers and the Northern Chester County Judges played to a 9-9 tie in an error-ridden Ches-Mont Connie Mack contest at Bucktown Tuesday.

In other activity within the circuit Pete Chryst fired a no-hitter as the Lower Pottsgrove Optimists dumped Starr Hill 17-0 and the New Hanover Lions swamped the Phoenixville Tigers 34-2.

Fourteen errors were committed in the Bucktown tilt, spoiling a pair of fine pitching performances by Ron Hallman of the Steelers and the Judges' Don Reigner.

The Steelers made nine of the 14 miscues, and trailed, 7-3 after four innings. A six-run burst in the last two innings gave the USWA 2326-Post 47 unit a 9-7 lead entering the last half of the seventh however.

HALLMAN RECORDED eight strikeouts and passed four batters in five and two thirds innings. He surrendered all save the last two NorChesCo runs.

Reigner allowed five hits and passed five, also fanning five, during a five-inning stint. Bill Scherfel finished up.

At Phoenixville, the Lower Pottsgrove Optimists reached Nick DeFusco for 13 hits and took advantage of seven Starr Hill errors to hang up their first win.

Chryst meanwhile, was pitching hitless ball and adding to his own cause with two hits, one a double and scoring three runs.

The New Hanover Lions scored 13 runs in the first inning against the Tigers as Jim Petrillo fanned 16 on a four-hitter.

Paul Petrillo and Billy Specht each had four hits for the winners, while Bob Hillegas and Specht each drove in five runs.

Wall Street News and Views

Old Fashioned Stocks Improve; Space Age Emphasis Slackens

AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The old-fashioned stocks at long last are taking the play away from the space age newcomers, and analysts see it as a solid and encouraging development.

Steels, motors and chemicals shot up Tuesday for the second straight market session after wallowing in the doldrums for weeks.

L. P. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. said he was impressed by the new willingness to buy non-glamor stocks.

"Stocks of this type are the backbone of the whole investment structure," he said. "On the average they are selling far below their 1957-59 highs."

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. expects the Dow Jones industrial average to top the Jan. 5 all-time closing high of 685.47 this year. The average closed today at 645.68, a gain of 16.60 since Friday.

"There will be some profit-taking along the way," Gilbert said, "but that is to be expected. The market can then build a new base and go ahead."

Schroeder Boulton of Goodbody & Co. commented that the general market, in its resurgence, "reflects the confidence in the size and the future effectiveness of steps that are being taken by banking authorities and presumably, if necessary, by Washington itself in influencing the economy."

He added that the outlook for the steel industry will lead to a good fourth quarter for the economy in general.

* * *

Eldon A. Grimm of Walston & Co. offered four reasons why he thinks there might be a good rally in basic stocks in coming months.

1. The presidential election is only five months away.

"Doesn't it make good sense to argue that the party in power will do everything it can to get the business cycle rolling upward again by late summer and autumn?" he said.

2. The government is likely to aid business activity.

"The federal reserve board has made a substantial slash in the discount rate. Many other things might be done, such as lowering of margin requirements, a drop in the prime interest rate, a considerable step-up in awarding defense contracts, and a move by congress to hike defense spending by two or three billion dollars."

3. The world race with the Soviet Union.

"We must make our economy, our defense forces, our civilian defense, our world leadership and our scientific know-how superior to that of the Soviets. We just can't afford the luxury of old-time recessions unless we want to risk the very existence of the United States."

4. Many old-fashioned stocks are quoted at recession levels.

"If the economy starts upward in earnest, there's plenty of room for gains in certain steels, rails, oils, motors, coppers, chemicals, aircrafts, papers and other categories."

School Teachers, Officials Attend Funeral of Mrs. Ruth Swinehart

Nearly 400 persons, among them Pottstown school teachers and administrators, paid final homage to Ruth (Filman) Swinehart, former teacher and principal, Tuesday afternoon.

Services for Mrs. Swinehart were from the Schumacher and Reber funeral home, 359 King street.

She died Saturday morning after a 35-year career of teaching in Pottstown elementary schools. She was taken ill three weeks before her death and had been a patient in the Reading hospital.

All teachers of the Pottstown school system were given permission to attend the funeral. The Franklin elementary school, where Mrs. Swinehart taught for the past nine years, was closed for the afternoon.

She taught at the Ruppert, Lincoln and Jefferson elementary schools and was head teacher (principal) at the old Washington school in the early 1940's.

The Rev. L. Samuel Krouse, associate pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, of which Mrs. Swinehart was a member, conducted the Lutheran burial service.

In his sermon the Rev. Krouse said, "Just as it has always been the desire of God for us to know the truth of the Gospel, so it was Mrs. Swinehart's desire for truth which motivated her life.

"It was her desire to give truth to her children that motivated her in her 35 years of teaching . . .

"Mrs. Swinehart witnessed in her life the life of a Christian who faithfully taught her children, whether they were those she knew or whether they were strangers.

"She was a Christian, a right kind of teacher for our children. Teaching wasn't just a job to her, it was a trust."

Bearers were Gerald Hodge, John Willson, Harold M. Wynne, Stanley Swinehart, L. Ernest Pickard and Stanley Skean.

Interment was in Highland Memorial park.

Funeral services for GEORGE R. BOYER, 86, widower of Lydia C. (Yerger) Boyer, who died Monday at the Masonic home at ELIZABETHTOWN, will be tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the Skean Funeral home, 404 High street.

Officiating will be the Rev. Lewis C. Leaming Jr., pastor of the First Methodist church. Graveside services by the Stichter Lodge 254 F and AM will be before the burial in Pottstown West End cemetery.

Mr. Boyer had been a guest of the Masonic home since September of 1958. He suffered a heart attack last Thursday.

He was a member of the Stitcher lodge 254, Royal Arch chapter, 271; Nativity commandery, 71; U.S. Grant council, Order of Independent Americans; Goodwill Fire company and the Fireman's Relief association.

Mr. Boyer is the last of his family.

HAROLD P. NOBLE, 59, of Meadville, brother of two local women, died Tuesday in a hospital in WARNER.

He was born in Schwenksville, a son of the late John and Minerva (Price) Noble. He was a retired Air Force chief warrant officer with 30 years service.

He is survived by a son Joseph, address unkown; two sisters, Edna, wife of Henry L. Rissell, 143 Sunrise lane, and Edith, wife of Elmer Essick, 889 River road, South Pottstown.

Arrangements are being made by Skean Funeral home, 404 High street.

Steven Lalko, 67, Dies In Hospital

Steven Lalko, 67, of 362 Apple street, died in Memorial hospital Tuesday night. He was a patient since June 1.

Survivors include a niece, Mary Bozidar, with whom he lived. Services are being planned by the Kopicki Funeral home, 1104 High street.

Shopping Center Near Boyertown Is Postponed

The start of construction of a modern shopping center near Boyertown was postponed for a year on Tuesday.

The project will be started in the Spring of 1961, according to announcement made by the Philip J. Levin company owner of the site.

David Montgomery, project manager, said, "Recent compaction tests have shown that fill has not settled properly for safe construction at this time.

"Because of this, the company has deferred the start of construction until early next Spring."

NEARLY 70,000 yards of fill dirt were placed in the area last Fall.

The company originally had expected to start building the 60,000 square foot center this Spring. It is to be erected on the southeast corner of the 12-acre site at East Philadelphia and Montgomery avenues in Douglass (Montgomery) township, just east of the Boyertown line.

The three businesses planning to lease the facilities have agreed to continue their leasing plans despite the postponement, Montgomery said. They are American stores (retail food), W. T. Grant (department store) and the Farmers National bank.

Construction is expected to take five months.

Salvation Army Brigadier Will Return to Borough

held during the depression years of 1929-32. It also means returning to the town where their daughter Joan Grace, now a school teacher in Williamsport, was born.

"Those were drab, dismal years in Pottstown, as they were all over," Brigadier White reminisced. "It was rather tough going, but it was still a lovely stay."

"The depression called on the entire resources of the Salvation Army and the friends of the Salvation Army," he continued in a voice that belied his 58 years. "The Salvation Army program during those years grew by leaps and bounds, but we had to watch to make sure that one program didn't overshadow any other.

"It was hard at that time to see that the welfare program didn't overshadow the religious program and the religious program didn't overshadow the character building program."

From Pottstown, the Whites moved to other commands in Pennsylvania, passing infrequently through Pottstown. "We only drove through Pottstown about six times since 1932, but we noted each time with a great deal of satisfaction the town's vast improvements."

HE EXPRESSED hope that the "population explosion that has made Pottstown a great geographical center has also led to a moral and spiritual growth in the community."

In one of the trips through Pottstown several years ago, he toured the Citadel with the man he will replace. "It is a masterful piece of work—a compliment to the community. It speaks well of the officers and the advisory board."

Brigadier White called Captain Flinn a "fine young man and—one who has endeared himself to the community." And he might have what is considered "inside" information on the Flinns—as his brother-in-law is the Flinn's superior officer.

Brigadier White's brother-in-law is Lieutenant Colonel John J. Grace, divisional commander for southeastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey and Delaware. The Whites, both graduates of the Salvation Army college, New York city, met in 1924 at an officers council in Pittsburgh. She was stationed in Pittsburgh and he in Cleveland.

TWO YEARS later they were both assigned to New York city to work under her father, Staff Captain Joseph Grace. A "whirlwind courtship followed," and they were married just 34 years ago today.

June is a month of many anniversaries for the Whites. In addition to the wedding anniversary, there is his 40th anniversary as an officer on June 21 and his wife's 37th anniversary as an officer on June 27.

"We'll probably pool all the anniversaries and then go out and really paint the town red," he laughed.

Three years later they were assigned to Pottstown with the rank of captains. They stayed through three years, leaving for York with the rank of ensigns.

"ENSIGN WAS a strange title, but they had a complexity of titles then which no longer exist," Brigadier White explained. His father-in-law's title of Staff captain is equivalent to the brigadier rank which he holds.

Following four years in York was eight years in Reading, a year in Schnectady, N. Y., and then Williamsport. During the years the Whites advanced from ensign to adjutant to major, senior major and then brigadier.

"The stay in Williamsport was the longest stay in one town since I was a boy," he noted, "but it was an exceptional stay of course."

During his decades in the service of God, the Whites have developed a hobby — people. "Our only real hobby is people. We have devoted the greater number of our years to the programs of youth.

"Actually, we've developed many hobbies. They run the entire gamut of arts and crafts, and we teach quite a few of them."

As for the programs established by Captain Flinn. "We will follow closely the program established by him. But as community needs arise, there will naturally be a shifting of emphasis," Brigadier White explained.

"But it will be dictated only by need," he concluded.

STATE POLICE COMB WOODS FOR CONVICT

Graterford Prisoner, Nearing Parole, Escapes

A Graterford convict, soon to go before a parole board, escaped Tuesday while laboring in a farm house outside prison walls.

Making a dash for freedom about 8:30 a. m. was Melvin Hershey, a burglar from Lancaster county. State police rushed to the area and began combing the nearby woods.

Hershey slipped away from guards just a half hour after his work outside the prison began. Hershey, 48, was denied parole in January, 1959. He has served half of a 10 year maximum sentence.

Guards recalled all inmates for a nose counting after Hershey's escape was detected. There were no accomplices to the break away.

Hershey is described as being mild mannered. Prison officials doubted that he is armed or that he has a vehicle. Hershey is white, about 5 feet, six inches tall, and 153 pounds. He has medium complexion, grayish brown hair, brown eyes and is wearing prison garb.

EVERY WEEK 10,000 PEOPLE BOUNCE ON ITS SEATS, HONK ITS HORN, KICK ITS TIRES, SLAM ITS DOORS, SHOP ACROSS THE STREET—AND THEN RETURN —TO BUY THIS CAR!

Falcon is having the best first year any car ever had . . . over 250,000 already sold since introduction . . . going at the record rate of 10,000 every week. What makes Falcon the world's most successful new car?

Economy!

To begin with, Falcon is America's very lowest-priced 6-passenger car* . . . $64 to $154 less than the other compacts.

"Falcon delivers the best fuel economy of the three new compact cars," says Motor Trena magazine. Owner reports and fleet operator logs consistently show Falcon mileage figures of up to 30 miles per gallon with regular gas.

Falcon goes 4,000 miles between oil changes, costs less to service, less to license and in most places, less to insure.

Falcon saves you more and still gives you full room for 6 big people and all their luggage. Small wonder Falcon has become first so fast!
